ABOUT

Hi! I'm Laura. I've spent the last few years balancing scriptwriting with hospitality work. However, what I really want is to be on set, surrounded by creatives, helping with film and TV production.

Whilst I enjoy writing, the times I've loved the most were shooting one of my short films in 2024 and running an R&D with a room full of actors for one of my plays in 2025. What I realised is that I feel most inspired, energised and creative when I'm working with others in these fast paced environments. So now that's exactly what I'm pursuing: a career on set.

I'm hardworking, a fast learner and keen to get stuck in any way I can. Whether that means assisting a department, fetching coffees or simply observing. I'd be so grateful for any opportunity to learn more and contribute in any way you need.

KEY SKILLS

I may be new to set, but I bring determination, enthusiasm and a host of sweet, sweet transferable skills! Here's why you'll love having me on the team:

- Quality Customer Service. I've worked in a café, as a wedding caterer and as a luxury chalet host. This hospitality experience has taught me a lot such as looking after people and anticipating their needs, communicating clearly between suppliers, problem solving in the moment to keep everyone happy and maintaining calm in stressful situations.
- Flexible and Tireless. Working in weddings requires you to be adaptable and fluid with role requirements. I go from pouring drinks one moment to carrying heavy crockery, putting up marquees and moving full-sized ovens the next. Wedding work has proven I can handle high pace, high pressure situations, changing priorities and being on my feet for long days.
- Personable and Helpful Team Player. I'm friendly, positive and easy to work with. Here's what some former colleagues have said about me:
 - "Laura's professionalism, kindness and talent is what made her a pleasure to work with." Ashton Wallis (Escaping Gravity)
 - "Working with Laura was an absolute breeze. Would highly recommend working with her." Rachel Moore (Zinc)
- IT Skills. I have office experience and am confident with computers including Microsoft and Google Suites. If there's a spreadsheet that needs to be updated, a report that needs to be made or documents that need to be distributed, I'll be able to handle it.
- Shot My Own Short Film. Directing my own short film in 2024 was a crash course in all things production. I organised the budget, fundraising, locations, cast, crew, costumes, schedule, call sheets and everything in between. The experience confirmed that I love being on set and I was successful in getting all the shots we planned whilst maintaining a positive environment on set.

OVERALL

I'm enthusiastic, willing to get stuck in and not annoying to have around! I'm determined to build experience, learn as much as possible and find a role I can love behind the scenes. I'd be forever grateful for you taking a chance on me.

THANK YOU!
