

Cheryl Lynn Broughton, age 62, passed away February 19, 2022, after a ten-year battle with leukemia.

Born on October 20th, 1959, in Bella Coola, BC to her late father, Douglas Wilson and mother, Mary (Ratcliff) Wilson. Eldest of her four siblings, Cheryl was known for kind heart, spunky nature, and rebellious attitude.

Cheryl married her longtime love and soulmate Merritt Broughton in a small Latter-Day Saint chapel on February 27, 1985.

Known for her profound kindness and nurturing spirit, Cheryl discovered her passion of caring for others while working as a candy striper at the Bella Coola Hospital. From there, Cheryl was inspired to pursue a career in nursing and with a great deal of dedication and hard work became a licensed practical nurse in Alberta and a registered nurse in British Columbia.

Together, Cheryl and Merritt had two earthly children; Chantell and Emerald along with many spiritual children who were lost too soon. As the years passed, Cheryl became the community mother "adopting" many wayward children and teens into her home; forever opening her door to anyone in need of a mother's love.

A devoted Latter-Day Saint woman, Cheryl enjoyed spending much of her time in prayer, temple work and gospel study – as a dedicated member of the relief society there was never an LDS potluck, she didn't manage to make her "famous" heart shaped tear away buns or unbaked cookies for.

As a beacon of peace, strength and inspiration for her family, Cheryl will be forever missed.

Cheryl is survived by her beloved husband of 37 years, Merritt Broughton, two children; Chantell Dukeshire and Emerald Ensign-Broughton; six granddaughters – Kirsten, Clarissa, Keira, Kylee, Scarlett, and Haylee; two grandsons – Alex and Malachi and her numerous adoptive children; Randi Sinclair, Gina Keeley, Niketa Brown and James Folwer.

"Irrespective of age, we mourn for those loved and lost.
Mourning is one of the deepest expressions of pure love.
It is a natural response in complete accord with divine commandment:

"Thou shalt live together in love, insomuch that thou shalt weep for the loss of them that die." (D&C 42:45.)"
- President Russell M. Nelson
