LAP OF LUXURY

If it feels like marble and emanates the same sense of luxury as marble, well, then it must be marble, right? Not when it's Purestone, a new material created by new bathroom brand Landmade for its tubs that is almost half as weighty and more affordable and sustainable. It has a smoothness to it that invites you to soak for hours; the various tub shapes are a mix of classic and contemporary beauty. The Leven, shown here, is clean-lined and covetable, but also look out for the monumental Torrens bath.
