JOYFUL MODERNISM

Playful yet polished, Monique and Staffan Tollgård's dream space is bold in form and crafted to lift the mood

The founders of Tollgård Studio use the Scandinavian notion of the 'red thread' to create cohesion in their work and their perfect bathroom is no exception. 'Each piece – material or product – is full of personality and satisfyingly bold and chunky,' says Monique. Aware that bathrooms can lack warmth and playfulness, the duo aim for a space that feels energising and inspiring. 'Somewhere that delivers a little jolt of drama and creative pow every time you enter,' she adds.

The drama begins with a sweep of Dekton's take on Ceppo di Gré limestone, aka nature's terrazzo, carried halfway up the walls and intensified by glossy green tiles. Unusually, the room's hero piece is the wonderfully eccentric WC from Trone, moulded in speckled green ceramic, and a lava stone basin and bath complete the scheme. 'Everything is curvaceous, tactile and fun, yet the overall impact is sophisticated,' says Staffan. 'This is a bathroom that will make us smile and keep us young.'
