If you're looking for a delightful spring time escape and a big dose of country air, but still want to be close to both Sydney and Canberra, look no further than Yass Valley in NSW.

"Spring is the best time of year to visit Yass Valley. Not only is the landscape alive with the bright greens and colours brought on by the warmer weather, but it's also the time of year that this region hosts many high-quality family-friendly events jam-packed with country charm," said Tourism and Economic Development Manager for Yass Valley Council, Sean Haylan.

"Spring in Yass Valley is a time to enjoy delicious regional food and wine, live music, culture, colourful local characters and the beauty of the natural landscape here.

"New this year is '4 Before Midnight', a rolling dinner where guests can graze four Yass venues in one night and enjoy wine as they go at Clementine Restaurant, Trader & Co, YazzBar and Thyme to Taste.

"Following this rolling dinner on the October long weekend, visitors can enjoy more fine food, premium wine, picturesque views and quality time with friends at the Murrumbateman Moving Feast.

"For those who love creative arts and history, join us for Sculpture in the Paddock at the heritage listed property, Cooma Cottage.

"If live music is more to your taste, you'll be spoilt for choice with the Turning Wave Festival and Gundaroo Music Festival.

"And don't miss Classic Yass featuring cars from the early 1900s through to the 70s and the popular Billy Cart derby in the main street," Sean concluded.
