THE COPPER BATHS AT THE WHITE HORSES SPA

Seaweed baths are a centuries-old tradition, particularly in Ireland, used to soothe the body through detoxification, skin rejuvenation, and muscle relief. By immersing yourself in warm seawater infused with hand-harvested seaweed, your body absorbs a powerhouse of minerals, including iodine, magnesium, and calcium, released as the seaweed heats.

KEY BENEFITS FOR BODY AND MIND

- Skin Rejuvenation & Healing: Seaweed is rich in vitamins A, C, and E, which nourish and hydrate the skin. Its natural oils, often called mucilage, create a protective, silky barrier that locks in moisture and helps treat conditions like eczema, psoriasis, and acne.
- Detoxification & Circulation: The warm bathwater dilates your pores and blood vessels, allowing the skin to absorb nutrients through osmosis while simultaneously drawing out impurities. This process boosts blood flow and supports the lymphatic system.
- Muscle & Joint Relief: Seaweed's anti-inflammatory properties are highly effective for easing sore muscles, rheumatism, and arthritis. The magnesium content specifically helps release muscle tension and promotes deep relaxation.
- Metabolic & Hormonal Support: The high concentration of iodine absorbed through the skin can support the thyroid gland in regulating metabolism, while vitamin K assists in hormonal balance.

OUR BATHING RITUALS COLLECTION

THE DOUGHMORE

45 minutes | €50

Immerse yourself in the Doughmore Restoration Ritual, a deeply soothing journey inspired by the healing power of the Atlantic.

Your experience begins with hand-harvested organic serrated wrack from the pristine waters of Doughmore Bay. As it warms, the seaweed releases a silky infusion of minerals, oils and iodine to support detoxification and skin renewal.

Relax into the sensation of gentle weightlessness as natural antioxidants soften the skin and ease tired muscles. The fresh coastal aroma calms the mind while marine minerals hydrate and revive the body. More than a bath, this ocean infusion restores radiance and leaves you with a lasting sense of calm.

THE AYLEVAROO

45 minutes | €55

Experience the revitalising power of the Repêchage Seaweed Bath, a thalassotherapy ritual that channels the life force of the ocean to renew skin and spirit. A concentrated infusion of Laminaria Digitata and Ascophyllum Nodosum releases vitamins, amino acids and minerals into warm, mineral-rich waters to detoxify, hydrate and soothe the body.

Emerge with skin that feels softer, smoother and deeply replenished — a restorative ocean ritual that helps restore natural vitality.

OUR BATHING RITUALS COLLECTION

THE KILKEE

45 minutes | €55

Surrender to the transformative power of the Vita Cura Dead Sea Salt Mineral Bath, a curated immersion designed to bridge the gap between ancient healing traditions and modern cellular science. This exquisite ritual centres on the world's most concentrated source of restorative minerals. As the crystalline salts dissolve into a warm, silken infusion, they release high potencies of magnesium, calcium, and potassium. These vital elements work in synergy to draw out impurities, soothe inflammation, and stimulate micro-circulation, effectively "resetting" the body's equilibrium.

The experience is a profound sensory escape; as the minerals penetrate the lipid barrier, the skin is instantly softened and deeply hydrated, emerging with a refined, luminous texture. The nervous system finds its quiet centre, bathed in a mineral-rich solution that mimics the earth's most therapeutic waters. This is more than a soak - it is a deep-tissue detoxification that leaves the spirit weightless and the skin revitalised with a youthful, dewy glow.
