

Dear Church Leader,

In 1987 I received a clear calling. God directed me to personally develop and mentor 100 men to become devoted Christians and strong spiritual leaders.

The process and material to develop these leaders is called Joshua's Men. The name comes from the book of Joshua, reflecting the leadership of Joshua himself. Moses was the leader of the day, and Joshua raised up the next generation of leaders. Joshua's Men are the emerging leaders in your church. Some are ready and some raw, but they are your best.

Little did I know that in 1997, INJOY would publish Joshua's Men. The result is that several thousand other churches have used this material to impact untold thousands of lives.

Through God's kindness and grace, leading a small group of about seven men a year, my personal mission of 100 men through JMen was completed and exceeded. Not unlike God, He has renewed the vision and I enthusiastically continue to train Joshua's Men.

Now, in 2023, the Joshua's Men material is updated and ready to serve you and your church to develop leaders so that you can achieve your (Great Commission) mission.

The material contains everything you need to take groups of men through the entire mentoring process — lesson plans, activities, study guides, leadership guides, and more. Every bit of it has been tested and proven. It really does change lives.

It's time to get started. Begin praying and looking for the men God wants you to develop in the coming year. If they're like many of the men I've worked with, someday they will look back on the year they spent in Joshua's Men and remember it as the defining year in their journey to becoming the men God created them to be.

Blessings,

Dan Reiland
