

Sasha Ferré

B.1985

Based in London and Paris

Introduction

Sasha Ferré paints directly onto unstretched canvases, creating works that are influenced by her interest in ecology, biology and process philosophy. Ferré's practice investigates the world as a constantly shifting network of connections. Her paintings are reflective of the gestural way in which she applies paint, blending the colours with her hands while she moves around what she considers to be her terrestrial biome - the floor of her studio.
