UPC cleans up the beaches in Chorrillos

In March 2020, UPC students participated in a volunteer clean-up effort of the beaches Las Brisas de Villa, El Faro, and La Encantada de Villa, in the district of Chorrillos. The NGO “HAZla por tu Playa,” an organization created in Perú to raise awareness about plastic pollution and empower agents of change for better segregation and disposal of solid waste cooperated in this effort.

After arduous work on the beach, 314.85 kg of usable, non-usable, and hazardous waste were collected.

UPC encourages the active role of our community in activities for the care and protection of the environment so as to transform our surroundings.
