Translation of the Relationship Violence Book

From July 12 to August 6, 2021, the translation of the Relationship Violence book was carried out at the UPC Monterrico campus. Thanks to the alliance between the United Nations Office on Drugs and Crime (UNODC) and UPC, the content modules on cybercrime, criminal justice, firearms, terrorism and organized crime in Latin America from the book entitled “Relationship Violence” were translated from English into Spanish by faculty and students of the Professional Translation and Interpretation Program, so that these resources could be accessible to a broad Spanish-speaking audience.

These modules are used by UNODC for teaching and training in Spanish-speaking countries. In this way, it was possible not only to translate the modules, but also to disseminate their content regarding issues of violence in all types of relationships. With this initiative, the dissemination gaps were reduced and something important was achieved, which is the promotion of a culture of the rule of law.
