Undiscovered destination awaits brand new UTMB World Series event in Türkiye

A hidden gem awaits trail runners in 2025 as the UTMB® World Series heads to the transcontinental country of Türkiye for a brand-new event: Kaçkar by UTMB® on 26-28 September 2025.

The host town of Ayder, Rize, sets the scene from its picturesque plateau nestled in the Kaçkar mountains. Runners will traverse shepherd's trails, taking in small villages and their traditional rustic wooden houses, mountain lakes and valleys plus lush wildflowers.

Race Director, Cem Adabük said, “It is a privilege to have such a beautiful landscape as a backdrop for a race, the feeling of untamed mountain scenery is impressive and the warm welcome from the locals is second to none!”

Race distances of 100K, 50K and 20K are on offer, ensuring there is a race distance and experience for everyone. With its traditional Turkish culture, local hospitality, and attractions such as the natural hot springs, the region also doubles up as the perfect holiday destination before or after the event.

With a fast growing trail running community in the area, Kaçkar by UTMB opens up the circuit to runners from Eastern Europe and Western Asia and from further afield, as the only event geographically positioned between China and Croatia on the UTMB World Series map. One of the first events after the UTMB World Series Finals, it offers a great opportunity for runners looking to kick off the new season in style and secure Running Stones as entry into the lottery to participate in the 2026 UTMB World Series Finals.
