EDITORIAL

At the time this magazine goes to press, we shall be concerned with examinations. Our immediate objective is the gaining of a successful result. Later on, we shall be looking at future goals.

Our School has helped us to develop mental and physical power, and at the same time has introduced us to sports and cultural delights that make life enjoyable. To have a good time and get a good job! — Are these aims adequate enough in the later part of this twentieth century? One critic of modern education, Dr. C. H. Bantock, has written as follows:— . . . “ . . . Our present trends in secondary education seem to involve largely an education of efficiency . . . not a training for life as the great poets, artists, and religious leaders have understood by that word.”

Life in the latter part of this century promises to be challenging and exciting. We have to consider the implications of the Scientific and Technological Revolution of our time, and also the “Revolution of Rising Expectations” in the newly emerging countries of Asia, Africa, Latin America, and the Pacific.

To meet people from these countries makes one realise how fortunate we are. I shall always remember the comment made by a University Lecturer from Kerala, India, when I told her of the grants made to students at our New Zealand Universities.

“Why!” she exclaimed, “you pay them to eat!”

Many folk in the Indian sub-continent died of starvation this year.

In a recent article, Science and the Common Man, Professor Ritchie Calder wrote as follows:

“The United Nations Conference on the Application of Science and Technology for the benefit of Less Developed Areas . . . in February 1963, spelled out what we know and what is needed . . . It was evident from that conference that there are answers already waiting to be applied, and that it is not a question of knowledge but of intention. It is a question of sharing the knowledge, skills, and resources that we already have at our disposal.”

To share anything calls for a broad vision, a conscious act of will, and sacrifice. Is our education preparing us to make this broad view and accept the challenge of sharing skills and knowledge? Dr. Albert Schweitzer, in The Decay and Restoration of Civilisation, wrote as follows:—

“Civilisation originates when men become inspired by a strong determination to attain progress and consecrate themselves to the service of life and the world . . .

Nothing of real value is ever accomplished without enthusiasm and self-sacrifice.”

Throughout history, youth has shown these qualities in abundant measure. Yet enthusiasm can soon evaporate. Contemporary realities call for clear thinking and a willing assumption of responsibilities.

The realities of our time are sometimes forgotten by the New Zealander who wants just a good job and a good time. He is forgetting that in fifteen years (1980) there will be another 1,000,000,000 folk for whom board and lodging must be found on earth. If we reflect on that fact alone, we can see something of the demands that the future will require of us.

Many British schools are reviewing their priorities. Increasingly, youth is responding to the claims of volunteer service abroad and also to service in the local community. A Northern Grammar School in a town of 36,000 raised over £1,000 in eighteen months for Oxfam and allied schemes. (C.O.R.S.O. in New Zealand has similar aims). Some pupils made regular weekly contributions.

Increasingly, we shall need an education in international understanding. Our talents and skills must be developed to the maximum, not just for personal or family well being, but so that we may accept the responsibilities and challenge of our day.

DIARY OF EVENTS

End of Year — 1964

- 3rd November—Summer sports fixtures v. Rangitikei College at Marton.
- 13th November—Accrediting announced.
- 16th November—School Certificate Examinations.
- 25th November—University Scholarship.
- 30th November—University Entrance.
- 7th and 8th November—Junior and Senior Speech Contests.
- 8th December—Prize-giving at the Opera House. Speaker: Sir Leslie Munro.
- 9th December—Staff v. School Games.
- 10th December—End of year.
- 11th December—1st. XI v. Mr. Cave's XI.

1965

2nd February—School opened. Roll 931. Staff members who had left were: Mr. J. B. Dearnaley, B.A., Mr. G. J. Dempsey, B.A., Mr. L. E. Sharman, M.Sc., Mr. E. H. Waitai, Mrs. J. B. Dearnaley, B.A., Mrs. L. M. Roberts, B.Sc., Miss E. McIntyre. New members of staff were: Mr A. E. King, B.Sc. (London), Miss G. W. Boyd, B.A., Mrs. J. B. Titter, Miss H. I. Hunt, B.A., Miss D. Hall, M.A., Miss P. M. Lock, Miss G. H. Urquhart, M.A., and Mr. A. L. Fletcher (part-time).

Sixth Form members were: Upper 6th 26, Lower 6th 87. There were seven who passed University Entrance by examination, making a total of 47. Ninety-five passed School Certificate, and one was on the credit list of the University Scholarship Examination.

This year for the first time there was no barracks week, and after one day on organisation, we commenced the time-table.

- 9th February—Swimming tabloid, won by Vogel.
- 9th February—Prefects appointed.
- 17th February—Swimming sports, won by Reeves.
- 22nd February—Mrs. K. Mayson commenced, part-time assistant.
- 6th March—Gala Day
- 8th and 9th March—Summer sports fixtures v. Taita College, at Taita.
- 9th March—Inter-School swimming contests, in our pool.
- 11th March—Inter-School Life-Saving contests — a clean sweep for School.
- 13th March—Swimming contest v. Dannevirke High School, at Dannevirke.
- 15th March—Summer fixtures v. Colenso High School, at Colenso.

- 15th March—Visit of Mr. L. Graham, Deputy-Director of Education, and Mr. H. Sayers, Regional Superintendent.

- 15th September—D. Lee, of Louisiana, United States, and the Rev. Fadyen, Baptist Central, Wanganui, attended Assembly, Dr. Lee speaking to the School.
- 21st and 22nd September—Performances of "A Man For All Seasons", by the Upper 6th, produced by Mr. Gillespie.
- 24th September—Sixth Form Forum held this year at High School. A good attendance for a study organised by Mr. W. Malcolm. Service at Trinity Methodist Church, Sunday, 26th September.

STAFF NOTES

After last year's Record went to press we lost several members. Mr. Sharman is now working on poisons at the D.S.I.R., Petone. Mr. Waitai went east and is now teaching at Te Aute. Mr. Dempsey is a lay parish worker at Christ Church, Wanganui, preparatory to taking Orders. Mr. Dearnaley, last year's Editor, is now Head of English at Morrinsville College.

During the year Miss Bonisch left us to become Mrs. Hoult and is living in the backwoods of the Bay of Plenty. Mrs. Donaldson is living in Wellington.

We welcome as staff members Miss Duncan who returns to the school, Miss Hunt (French and Geography), Miss Hall (History and Maths.), Miss Boyd (Biology), Miss Lock (Commerce), Miss Urquhart on leave from Nigeria, Mr. Browne who has taken Mr. Waitai's place, and Mr. King who comes to us from Zambia to teach science. During the year Mrs. Mayson, Mrs. Lucas, Mrs. Hammond and Mrs. Thompson have assisted us as relieving teachers and Mrs. Newman replaces Mrs. Donaldson in the library. Mrs. Parsons and Mr. Fletcher have also assisted during the year.

Mr. Smellie on his return from leave overseas has had to take sick leave and Mr. Thompson has continued as First-Assistant. We wish Mr. Smellie a speedy recovery.

Mr. Brewer and Mr. Roberts will be leaving us to return to England. We wish them and Mrs. Brewer and Mrs. Roberts bon voyage and not too much smog to greet them on arrival. Soccer teams in the school will feel their absence and we shall miss their presence in the staff room.

Congratulations to the Roberts (a daughter), the Inghams (a son) and the Gillespies (a son).

An event of some importance in the Mathematics Department took place in January. Equationwise it may be expressed:  $S(\text{mith}) + P(\text{lunkett}) = S(\text{mith}) - P(\text{lunkett}) = 2 S(\text{mith})$ . Congratulations — the school's first staff wedding.

Miss Greenwood leaves us for Palmerston North after her marriage in December. Our best wishes to her. Sport in the school and Wanganui is going to be the poorer for her going; she has done so much for our basketball, athletics and cricket in her time here.

PREFECTS' NOTES — 1965

After the initial excitement the prefects settled into their new positions of responsibility quickly and into a duty routine that varied little throughout the year.

This year a new uniform, blouse and skirt, has been instituted for the girl prefects. We eagerly await the day when all of the girls will be permitted to wear this very attractive uniform.

We ran a number of socials this year and these were well received by the school. Our greatest success was the third form social. The thanks for this must go to the third formers themselves for the co-operation they gave us and for the eagerness with which they took part, and to Miss Greenwood and Mr. Bowden who taught them to dance. I would take this opportunity to thank the group of girl prefects who decorated the hall in a very creditable fashion for every social.

The relationship between boy and girl prefects has, this year, been extremely amicable. The boys claim credit for this, in that they instituted end of term social functions for the prefects.

We take this opportunity to thank the majority of the school for the co-operation without which our job would have been intolerable. Our thanks must also go to the staff for the assistance and guidance they have given us, and finally we take this opportunity to express our sincere appreciation for the help, advice, and encouragement given to us by Miss Sutherland and Mr. Thompson throughout the year.

SCHOOL COUNCIL

The 1965 School Council met on 20th July for the first time with two representatives from each form. Remits had previously been discussed by each form and then handed in to the head boy for discussion at the meeting itself. Previous Council meetings had lacked support from the various forms but this year there was a good response with remits.

Several excellent suggestions were made for the good of the school and this resulted in many noticeable improvements around the school, including the planting of a windbreak around the tennis courts and at London Street end of the grounds. A mufti day also added colour to the winter term. Tuck shop facilities have been improved with the extension of the counter and lunchtime menus have been extended to include hot pies.

Middle Row: P. Stodart, B. Sutherland, S. Williamson M. Ruston, F. Derbyshire, M. Groshinski, J. Fletcher, J. Gray.
Front Row: L. Miller, C. Hodder, S. Bindoff, D. Young, N. Hancox, E. Noble, C. Rowe, B. Wenmoth.

A further meeting was held on 3rd November and further improvements in the school took place. It is hoped that these meetings will continue as a feature of every school year as they do give the school a little practice in self-government. We should like to thank Mr. Gibson for his co-operation throughout.

THE SCHOOL CHOIR

Again the enthusiasm and interest in the School Choir has resulted in a high standard being reached. There has been a pleasing number of senior boys in the choir.

Attendance at rehearsals and attention to part learning has helped to create this standard. Both in performance and appearance on stage the choir have brought credit to the school.

At the beginning of the second term two choirs, a senior and junior, were formed, but these were later amalgamated. At the Choral Festival in the Opera House on October 7th approximately 140 members sang the following numbers:

Chorus — "Dance A Cachuca", Sullivan.

Welsh Air — "Watching The Wheat", Williams.

Chorus — "Hail Bright Abode", Wagner.

Negro Spiritual — "My Lord What a Morning",
arr. Burleigh.

Carol — "Come and Worship", Dicks.

Chorus — "The Judge", Sullivan.

We were fortunate in having Mr. Browne's assistance and in addition to organising the Schools' Festival he acted as accompanist.

Mr. Francis has again been our conductor. We thank him and Mr. Browne for their enthusiasm and untiring efforts.

It is hoped to continue the smaller choir which sang at the 1964 Break-Up as a permanent "Madrigal Choir" which will perform away from school as well as at school functions.

We appreciate the interest and encouragement of Mr. Gibson and Miss Sutherland.

DRAMA NOTES

The School continues to build a fine tradition in drama. Next year it is hoped to revive the Drama Club and devise a full programme of activities, giving pupils experience in all aspects of the theatre, for the interest is undoubtedly there.

One-Act Plays

An evening of one-act plays was held in the School Hall on August 3.

THE CHOIR

Miss Maclean produced "The Crimson Coconut" with a third form cast, consisting of Elizabeth McFarlane, Juanita Williamson, Peter Greenwood, John Bitchener, Bruce Boyd, and Jan Goss. The players carried off their roles with entertaining gusto.

Miss Urquhart and a cast of fourth formers chose A. A. Milne's "The Ugly Duckling", which they performed with wit and smoothness. Those taking part were Deborah Crabtree, Julie Oldham, Jill Brassell, Murray Herd, Brian McVety, Roger Bowley and Bruce Young. The fifth form play was Act 1 of Shaw's "Arms and the Man". The cast of Leigh Jolley, Diane Foley, Jennifer Dyer, David Bindoff, and Robert James worked hard under Miss Boyd's direction and with the aid of subdued lighting and fine costuming established a convincing atmosphere.

The profits from the evening were donated to Sportastade. From the School's point of view, however, the real value was in the experience gained by the participants and the interest in drama that their efforts stimulated.

Our thanks are due to the three producers for their hard work.

A MAN FOR ALL SEASONS — Robert Bolt

This play, produced by Mr. G. G. Gillespie, was performed by a cast of sixth formers. It ran for two nights in the High School Hall and was very well attended on both occasions by appreciative audiences. The play is no lightweight and the success achieved reflects great credit on all those who spent long and arduous hours striving for perfection.

As the Common Man, Ian Moore soon got into his stride and gave a performance which exploited to the full the possibilities of his role.

Morris Richards had a colossal task and his sympathetic and intelligent interpretation of the part of Sir Thomas More was thoroughly convincing. A most accomplished performance and deserving of the high praise it received.

David Lupton as Richard Rich was a credibly foppish hireling effectively functioning as the easily corruptible tool of Cromwell.

Cromwell, the villain of the piece, was well portrayed by Bryan Wenmoth who projected him as a conniving and unscrupulous character of whom the audience were well satisfied to learn that he eventually got his deserts.

The Duke of Norfolk was splendidly played by David Andrews. His fine voice and commanding presence were much appreciated.

Noela Hancox as Alice More and Susan Bindoff as her blue stocking daughter, Margaret, both gave fine performances. Their voices came across very well and Sir Thomas benefited greatly from the fine support he received from them.

As the lusty, volatile King Henry, Peter Till gave a pleasing performance and obviously enjoyed his role.

The supporting cast David Young, Roy Foley, Brian Knowles, Bruce Foster, Judith Gray and Graeme Anderson carried their relatively minor parts with real credit and did all that was required to maintain the general excellence of the production.

This meticulous attention to detail was discernable at all times and was vital to the undoubted success of the drama.

One of the most pleasing features of the production was the involvement of all members of the Upper Sixth. During the performances the effective running of the play was in their hands and the smoothness with which things proceeded was a tribute to the competence and reliability of the stage managers and their assistants.

The audience at both performances had a feast of stimulating theatre and were loud in their applause of all who contributed to their enjoyment.

Participants and audience offer their special thanks to Mr. Gillespie for his untiring efforts on their behalf. We congratulate him and all those who contributed their talents on a good job well done.

LIBRARY NOTES

1965 has been another notable year in the growth of the library. With the acquisition of Kicking Canvas in early October, the number of books reached four thousand; an after-school tea in the library to commemorate this was enjoyed by all who attended. 650 new books have appeared on the shelves this year, many of these being permanently protected and enhanced by their plastic jackets. In addition, the removal of a number of works of general interest from the reference section for ordinary borrowing, and loans from the School Library Service have permitted a wider range of books for circulation.

We were sorry to lose Mrs. Donaldson in the second term, but the arrival of Mrs. Newman from Te Aroha with Miss Salmond's continued support has maintained efficiency in the library. The Library Committee has again been of assistance; duties involve more than working at the desk; in the back-room helping with necessary repairs and the preparation of new books is encouraged. But the most essential job — that of keeping the shelves in order after excessive mishandling of books — is unfortunately frequently neglected.

The library, with its rapidly diminishing spare shelf space, enjoys more patronage from the school — especially in the winter months when it is often filled with the murmur of conversation, possibly owing to the lack of other facilities. We should remember the library is a reserve for reading and quiet study. Need there be a careless attitude to one of the prominent institutions of the school? However, the library, in its attempt to satisfy the literary requirements of nearly one thousand people is grateful to those who have been helpful and co-operative, and especially to those who have donated books.

THE CHESS CLUB

For the Chess Club it was another intellectually enjoyable year.

Three more boards were bought to cater for the number of new members, among whom, for the first time, were girls.

Our inter-school match with the Boys' College was played at the end of the second term, when our team (nine boys and 1 girl) was defeated by seven games to three.

S.C.M. NOTES

This year the Student Christian Movement started with a social gathering after school and later a fish and chip tea organised by Miss Salmond and Mrs. Smith with the help of some of the girls. Games after tea provided lots of laughs and fun and helped us to get to know each other. Miss Salmond outlined the year's programme to a good attendance.

Meetings have been held each Thursday this year as one group instead of dividing into small groups under a leader as in previous years. The theme has been "Does Christ affect my attitude to? (schoolwork, sex, money, the universe, etc.). The talks have been well attended, often by non-members, where a topic has been of particular interest, and discussions followed, giving members chances to air their views. Our thanks go to the guest speakers, the Rev. D. Weaver, Mr. G. Dempsey, the Rev. Father Feehly and the Rev. J. England from Palmerston North. Another feature this year was our attendance at the Ingestre St. Baptist Church where we witnessed a baptism.

Although our fund-raising is rather lagging this year, car cleaning and other activities have brought in funds for study material and the establishment of S.C.M. groups in Asia, particularly India.

Two enthusiastic members, Sue Denton and Fiona Darbyshire attended a leadership conference in Christchurch for a week during the January holidays. It is only through enthusiasm of this sort that our branch will progress.

The year closed with an appetizing lunch of saveloys, bread and soft drinks, after which Mr. Gibson gave his final address.

Our thanks go to Miss Salmond, Mrs. Smith and other staff members who have so freely given of their time during the year.

THE DUKE OF EDINBURGH AWARD SCHEME

In accordance with what we consider are the true aims of this scheme — to develop self-reliance as well as physical skills etc. — boys have been left alone more this year. This has meant more failure to complete courses. There has been a falling off in entrants this year; we hope that more of this year's third and fourth formers will take part in this worthwhile scheme next year.

Those who have completed the requirements by the end of October are:

Silver — B. Wenmoth, B. Knowles, I. Moore, R. Sales, P. Till, A. Loveday.

Bronze — R. Aves, R. Timpany, I. Scott (L6A).

Several others have only one requirement to fulfill to qualify this year.

THE NEW HUT

At the opening of the hut.

TRAMPING CLUB

This important year in the history of the Club has seen the official opening of our own hut on the slopes of Mt. Ruapehu almost exactly one year after building work began and two years after the project first started with the hewing of timber in Wanganui.

The Hut has a main room 20 ft. by 12 ft. in dimensions with two sleeping shelves to accommodate sixteen trampers and an open fire for heating and cooking purposes. A drying room 20 ft. by 5 ft. forms the remaining part of the building.

The situation is a comparatively sheltered valley, about one hour's walk from the Ohakune Mountain Road, at an altitude of 4,300 ft. and is admirably situated as a base for tramping and biological expeditions.

Although possession of our own building opens new horizons for the Tramping Club, the actual process of building the hut was an adventure in itself. No pupil who has battled through the driving hail carrying his sheet of iron or piece of "four by two", or who has spent a night on the snowline in a tent which threatened to become airborne at any moment, will forget the early days of the building programme. To the girls who cooked the meals on an open fire in driving rain and the boys who worked with numbed fingers on the construction job, the finished hut with its comfortable bunks and carpeted floor will seem luxurious indeed.

We must include here a word of thanks to the parents and teachers who have made possible the completion of this ambitious project.

The need to concentrate our efforts on the building programme cut down our normal expeditions in 1965 although a party of fifteen did swim down the Otaki Gorge and trips to the Egmont snowfields and the Rumbling sandhill at Kai Iwi were undertaken.

In 1966 we hope to put the finishing touches to the hut, thoroughly explore the almost untrodden area to the East and South, and to resume our usual programme of trips to other areas.

OPENING OF THE HUT—30th. OCT., 1965.

Mr. A. J. W. Hodder, B.D.S., J.P., President of the Home and School Association cut the ribbon barring the doorway of the Tramping Club Hut at 2 p.m. on this memorable day in the presence of Mr. Gibson and more than a hundred parents, teachers and friends.

In a witty speech, well suited to an occasion for which senior pupils wore white shirts, black bow ties, shorts and tramping boots, Mr. Hodder congratulated the team of parents, teachers and pupils on the completion of a building which should be an important asset to the School. The weather, often so hostile on the mountain, was perfect for the occasion, as it had been on the previous evening when a party of thirty club members wended their way in torchlight procession across the mountain to test thoroughly the capacity of a hut built to accommodate sixteen in this remote valley on Ruapehu.

Mr. and Mrs. Hodder made a presentation for the purchase of a tool kit for the Hut and later Mr. Lupton and Mr. W. Phillips were presented with mementos of the occasion by Ian Moore on behalf of the Tramping Club.

PAST STUDENTS' ASSOCIATION NOTES

Once again it is my privilege to write these notes on behalf of the W.H.S.P.S.A. It is not a small honour, as from such small beginnings a strong and prosperous Association will, and must grow.

This past year's activities were confined to a game of Rugby and a game of Basketball. Results were as follows:

Rugby: High School 11, Past Students 3.

Basketball: High School 14, Past Students 6.

Due to unavoidable circumstances, matches in other codes were found to be impracticable. It is hoped, however, to include all sports in fixtures to be arranged next year.

Our thanks go to the School for providing referees, opposition (we would appreciate less fitness next time) and an excellent morning tea which was enjoyed by all.

The attendance, despite counter attractions, was heartening, especially in view of the tone of the Annual General Meeting. At the A.G.M. it was felt that to go into recess for a few years would be advantageous, if not essential. However, after discussion among the 21 members present, it was decided to keep the Association alive and attempt to widen the scope of activities gradually. The implementation of this policy relies solely on the enthusiasm and support of existing and intending members.

To try and attract more members the subscription has been lowered to 5/-. Intending members should contact the Secretary, Miss Alison Cromarty or approach Mr. Gibson for details.

Once again, as in past years, I would like to extend the appreciation of the Association to Mr. Gibson for his valuable guidance in the conducting of our affairs. I hope, Mr. Gibson, that your association with us will continue for many years to come.

In conclusion, I would like to thank the members of my committee for their untiring efforts, and offer their thanks to all those who have assisted in making our modest re-union a success this year.

Trevor Alderton, President.

INTER SCHOOL ATHLETICS

Boys: This year we were hosts for the Meeting. Apart from the weather, where the wind somewhat spoiled things and caused two records to be disallowed, it was an enjoyable day. School on the whole did better than usual and gained 2nd place in the Senior, also winning the relay, both for the first time. Once again Gilbertson was the outstanding competitor for High School, winning two good races against very tough opposition. S. Browne and P. Wakeling were also double winners.

Boys' College won three of the sections. Collegiate winning the under 16. We provided more winners than usual.

Place getters for W.H.S. were:

Under 19:

1st. 220 yds. 23.9 sec. and 1st. 880 yds. 2min 3.5sec, M. Gilbertson.
1st. 440 yds. G. Andrews, 54.7 sec. 2nd. Hurdles, R. Green.

Under 15:

1st. Broad Jump 18ft. 5in. 1st. 440 yds. 57.3sec. 2nd. 100 yds.
3rd. 220 yds. P. Wakeling, 3rd. Hurdles, J. Knofflock.

Under 16:

1st. 220 yds. 25.1 sec. 2nd.—100 yds. 2nd. 440 yds. K. Williams.
2nd. Hurdles, M. Hills, 3rd. High Jump, O. Torr.

Under 14:

1st. 440 yds. 61.6 sec. 1st. 880 yds. 2min. 31sec., S. Browne.
2nd. Hurdles M. Herd.

Relays:

Under 14, 3rd. Under 15, 3rd. Under 19, 1st. Time 47 sec.

Girls: The Inter-School Athletic Sports were held this year at the Wanganui Girls' College. The meeting took place on the same day as the boys' (Wednesday, April 14th.)

Congratulations to the following girls for gaining first place in their events.

Over 15:

Long Jump, M. Osborne, 16ft. 9in. 100 yds., M. Osborne, 12 sec.
220 yds., M. Osborne, 28.5 sec. Discus, J. Fletcher 119ft. 2in.
New record. Hurdles, J. Fletcher, 12.9 sec.

Under 14:

75 yds., P. Bares, 9.8 sec. High Jump, A. Johnson 4ft 4in.

Relay, Under 14:

Wanganui High School and Wanganui Girls' College equal 1,
Time 58.1 sec.

SWIMMING

The school swimming sports were held on the 17th of February; once again, we regret to say, in poor weather. A large number of records were broken, as follows:

Boys Under 14½, Championship:

27½ yards Freestyle: S. Wenmoth 14.4 sec.
55 yards Freestyle: K. Payne 31.3 sec.
110 yards Freestyle: K. Payne 71.2 sec.
27½ yards Breaststroke: P. Gordon 21.5 sec.
27½ yards Backstroke: M. Aves 18.2 sec.

Girls Under 14½ Championship:

27½ yards Freestyle: Karen Goss 16.7 sec.
55 yards Freestyle: Lauris Mathieson 37.1 sec.
110 yards Freestyle: Claire Turner 84.5 sec.
27½ yards Breaststroke: Leigh Doyle 20.9 sec.
27½ yards Backstroke: Lauris Mathieson 18.3 sec.

Boys Under 16 Championship:

55 yards Freestyle: C. Thompson 31.9 sec.

Girls Under 16 Championship

110 yards Freestyle: Carolyn Free 83.4 sec.
27½ yards Breaststroke: Mary Jones 19.9 sec.

Boys Over 16 Championship:

27½ yards Freestyle: O. Campbell 13.7 sec.
55 yards Freestyle: O. Campbell 30.5 sec.
110 yards Freestyle: O. Campbell 68.4 sec.
27½ yards Breaststroke: D. Young 17.7 sec.

Girls Over 16 Championship:

27½ yards Freestyle: Judy Patterson 15.8 sec.
110 yards Freestyle: Judy Patterson 85 sec.

The final House result was:

Reeves	123
Seddon	102
Ballance	54
Vogel	34

The tabloid swimming sports were held on February the 9th. The house results were as follows:

Vogel	.....	387	Ballance	.....	366
Reeves	.....	379	Seddon	.....	348

The inter-school swimming competition was held on 9th March with High School acting as hosts. The swimming strength of the school was shown when we won 16 of the 37 events.

Undoubtedly the highlight of the season was the success of Kevin Payne in winning the North Island Secondary Schools' Boys' Under 15 100 yards freestyle and 220 yards freestyle events. Congratulations also to Lauris Mathieson for gaining 2nd place in the Girls' Under 15 220 yards freestyle event.

The swimming season ended with parents transporting our team to Dannevirke High School for a swimming and water polo match. The school won the swimming 147 points to 56 points and the water polo 7-0.

LIFESAVING

The 1964/65 season has been very successful. In March the school entered the inter-school life saving championships and won 1st place in both the boys and girls events.

The Boys Team:

D. Young, and B. Mullins.
B. Wenmoth and D. Andrews.

The Girls Team:

Judy Patterson and Margaret Jones.
Denise Taylor and Jill Fletcher.

In the individual competition D. Young, B. Wenmoth and D. Andrews gained 1st, 2nd and 3rd places respectively in the boys competition, and Jill Fletcher and Margaret Jones were placed 1st and 2nd in the girls competition.

The following passed lifesaving awards during the season:—

CRICKET

In the 1964-5 season three teams played in regular Saturday competitions. The First Eleven played in the Second Grade and the Second Eleven in the Secondary Schools Grade. A most welcome innovation was the introduction of a Third Form grade which we hope will serve as a nursery for cricketers in the school.

Third Form Eleven 1965:

Coach: Mr. G. G. Gillespie,

Team: G. Hunt (Capt.), G. Robins, R. Fletcher, L. Davies, L. Gilsenen, K. Potaka, A. Anderson, P. Bretherton, K. Stone, J. Oskam, E. Hyndman, C. Milham.

The Eleven performed very creditably, winning more games than it lost and against the strong Collegiate team it did particularly well. The enthusiasm of the team's members is a good sign for cricket in the school.

Second Eleven, 1965.

Coach: Mr. S. Smith.

Team: M. Smith (Capt.), A. Miller, D. Wilson, D. Bindoff, C. Mills, J. Weatherall, G. Green, I. Scott, P. Malloy, J. Fletcher, P. Hunt, J. Phillips, J. Brown, D. Porteous.

Although the team achieved few successes during the season there has been considerable improvement in the quality of the cricket it has played. Again the team's keenness to practice has been outstanding.

First Eleven, 1965.

Coach: Mr. D. G. Ingham.

Team: B. Phillips (Capt.), A. Lockett (V. Capt.), D. Morrison, E. Williams, K. Williams, D. Ansley, R. Davidson, P. Wakeling, G. Neilson, D. Miller, C. Connell, D. Mills.

The 1964-5 club season, like those preceding it, was a very successful one for the First Eleven, but both inter-school matches were disappointing in that neither produced a result. This was largely due to the immaturity of our batting, our failure to score runs at a reasonable rate and our lack of a good opening as the foundation of our innings. Phillips, alone, batted consistently with patience and determination although most members of the team made useful contributions at different times.

The bowling generally was much more reliable than the batting and no team was able to score runs easily against the steady medium paced attack of Connell, K. Williams, Mills, Wakeling and Phillips. Variety was provided by Lockett who bowled his leg spinners with considerable success. Although the ground fielding generally was very good — E. Williams at point was often outstanding — too many catches were dropped throughout the season for full advantage to be taken of some fine bowling.

The Eleven was a young one in both age and experience and most of its members will be returning to school for at least another year. It is expected that there will be a considerable improvement in its performances in the new season, particularly after two new clay-based turf practice wickets are laid down. Perhaps next season we may achieve that elusive goal — outright victory in a two day inter school match.

Once again the greater experience (or was it the kindness of Ivan Tempero?) of the staff produced a win for the Headmaster's Eleven. From the staff's point of view the highlights were, without doubt the opening partnership of 77 by Mr. Bowden and Mr. Caradus and some fine bowling by Mr. Smith who took 4—25.

Versus Central Districts Supporters Club, at Wanganui

December 11, 1964.

This, the second of these games to be played, was a most enjoyable fixture, unfortunately rained out when in a very interesting stage.

Versus Colenso High School, at Wanganui

March 15 and 16, 1965.

Lack of time and the inability of both teams to score freely prevented any decision being reached.

In both innings school made a bad start, but in both cases Phillips led a recovery assisted by sound batting from Neilson, Wakeling, Connell, Ansley and Williams. In the second innings our batting looked much more mature and showed promise of things to come. Although this game was drawn the Eleven performed well against a much older and more experienced team.

Versus Taita College, at Taita

March 8 and 9, 1965.

After a good start to be 50 for 3 the First XI collapsed badly to be 58—9. However a very good last wicket partnership of an hour between Mills and K. Williams took the score to 102 and kept Wanganui in the game. In the Taita innings K. Williams and Lockett deservedly got 3—16 and 5—48 respectively. Our second innings of 94 was notable only for some fairly undistinguished batting although several of the younger members showed improved form.

GIRLS' CRICKET

The 1964-5 season opened with quite a large number of girls choosing cricket for their sport. But as there were only two other local teams for them to challenge, games have necessarily been confined largely to those within the school on Tuesday afternoons.

Our girls did however have a convincing win over the Girls College Cricket eleven. High School retired at 101 runs and Girls College batted 72 runs. The score against the Boys 2nd XI was rather uneven but experience was gained from the match.

It is very much to be hoped that a stronger interest taken in girls cricket, both in schools and in the community, will eventually restore Saturday competitions in this district.

We are very grateful to Miss Greenwood for coaching the Saturday players, and to Mr. Brewer and Mrs. Smith for their work on Tuesdays.

ROWING NOTES

The School again took an active part in rowing this season. We were again fortunate in having the equipment and facilities of the Wanganui Rowing Club for our use.

The season opened with a successful regatta at Waitara. The No. 1 four won the schoolboy fours and the eight finished second behind the Boys' College in the school eights.

The Jury Cup was the next Regatta. In the school eights, the eight was beaten by the Boys' College by two feet. In the school fours the school No. 1 four finished third in the final behind Collegiate No. 1 and Boys' College No. 1.

During the Christmas vacation the No. 1 four; W. Skelsey, E. Noble, N. Gaskin, D. Cornes, D. Anderson (Cox), travelled to the Tauranga and Rotorua regattas.

At the Tauranga regatta the crew finished second in the youth fours and second in the school fours.

At the Rotorua regatta, held on the Blue Lake, the crew won the school fours from a field of fifteen crews. Hamilton Boys' High School, which won at Tauranga finished second to the school crew.

The first term of the new year is always the busiest. The crew rowed in the Wellington Regatta in the youth eights, lightweight fours, and school fours. The No. 1 four finished second in the school fours.

This year was the first year the school had participated in the New Zealand Championships. The crew rowed in the Youth Eights and Youth Fours. The regatta, held on the Wanganui River was very enjoyable.

Every year one regatta stands out as the most successful. This season, this was the regatta held in conjunction with the Provincial Eights at Clive. The school eight led the field of five for most of the distance, however it was overtaken about 200 yards from home by the Boys' College crew, with Napier Boys' High School third. In the school fours the No. 1 and No. 2 fours finished first and second.

April 10th was the day for the most important regatta of the school year — the Maadi Cup. This year the regatta was held on Wellington Harbour. The eight drew the hardest heat with Collegiate, Boys' College and Tauranga Boys' College, and failed to qualify for the final. Collegiate won the cup for the third year in succession, a fine effort.

In conclusion, our thanks go to our coach Mr. A. R. Byres for the time, effort and keenness he always gives to the crew, Mr. B. Ingram, Mr. J. Linseen and Mr. Martin for their work with school rowing and to our school rowing masters, Mr. Pringle and Mr. King for their work during the season, and to the Wanganui Rowing Club for its help.

The eight was: W. Skelsey (stroke); D. Cornes (7); R. Buller (6); E. Noble (5); R. Noble (4); S. Hart (3); M. Dewson (2); A. Minnell (Bow); P. Sweeney (Cox).

TENNIS

This year we had to rebuild the tennis ladder almost completely as all but one of last year's team had left school. Thus, the team which represented us in all the inter-school fixtures was very young and inexperienced. Games were played against Rangitikei College, Wanganui Girls' College, Sacred Heart Convent, Taita College (away) and Colenso High School and though High School had very few wins, the new players gained much in experience and should provide a solid foundation for next year's team.

RUGBY

1st XV NOTES

The first fifteen for 1965 consisted of a core of experienced 1st XV players with a few promising younger boys, blending together to give a well balanced team that played some good rugby during the season. The captain for the season was E. M. Noble and vice-captain D. J. Wilson.

Four players were selected for the Wanganui Secondary Schools' Representative team that played the curtain-raiser for the South Africa versus Wanganui-King Country clash. They were:— E. Noble, W. Skelsey, M. Gilbertson and M. Takarangi. These four plus E. Williams and D. Wilson gained selection in the Wanganui representative 4th grade team.

The team played well early in the season on dry grounds but did not adapt so well to the wet slushy fields that were encountered for most of the season.

We played Collegiate 1st XV for the first time in the history of our rugby and this 'unofficial' match proved to be most enjoyable as well as being the hardest fixture of the year. The game was played in ideal conditions. The game was close throughout with Collegiate winning by 14 points to nil.

TEAM: Backs—B. Knowles, G. Andrews, K. Williams, M. Gilbertson, M. Takarangi, D. Ansley, D. Wilson.

Forwards—A. Lockett, K. Davis, E. Noble, J. Hemi, C. Connell, D. Young, D. Cornes, W. Skelsey.

D. Blyth replaced D. Ansley in the second half. Blyth played in the forwards and A. Lockett moved to full back.

Rangitikei College:

In wet and slippery conditions the first fifteen never really recovered from the shock of being down thirteen points in as many minutes. As in previous years the game was a hard one in which school fought back strongly in the second half with tries by Takarangi and Cornes and a dropped goal by Knowles. The final score was a win to Rangitikei College by 19—9.

Backs—B. Knowles, K. Williams, M. Gilbertson, E. Williams, M. Takarangi, D. Ansley, D. Wilson.

Forwards—A. Lockett, C. Connell, E. Noble, J. Hemi, W. Skelsey, D. Young, D. Cornes, D. Boniface.

G. Andrews replaced K. Williams; K. Davis replaced D. Ansley.

v. St Augustine's 1st XV:

We played St. Augustine's on the School's Day at Spriggens Park. In an enjoyable and fast open game a last minute forty yard penalty by B. Ahern of St. Augustine's forced a 6—6 draw which was a good result for the encounter. Two good back movements by school led to fine tries by E. Williams and M. Gilbertson.

TEAM: Backs—B. Knowles, G. Andrews, M. Gilbertson, E. Williams, M. Takarangi, K. Saunders, D. Wilson.

Forwards—A. Lockett, W. Skelsey, E. Noble, J. Hemi, B. Phillips, C. Connell, D. Cornes, D. Boniface.

1st XV

Back Row (L. to R.): D. N. Ansley, J. M. Takarangi, K. G. Williams, D. M. Blyth, E. J. Williams, D. C. Young, J. Hemi, K. A. Davis, Mr. N. J. Bowden.
Middle Row (L. to R.): W. E. Skelsey, A. J. B. Lockett, C. L. Connell, B. G. Phillips, E. M. Noble (Captain), D. J. Wilson (Vice-Captain), M. E. Gilbertson, B. H. Knowles, D. W. Cornes.

v. Taita College:

In atrocious conditions on the school grounds we gave the visitors a tough forward game in which the weather did not favour enterprising back play. G. Andrews scored a good opportunist try which was unconverted but errors led to the equalisor being scored by Taita. The game ended with the score at 3—3.

TEAM: Backs—B. Knowles, G. Andrews, E. Williams, M. Gilbertson, M. Takarangi, K. Saunders, D. Wilson.

Forwards—A. Lockett, W. Skelsey, E. Noble, J. Hemi, B. Phillips, C. Connell, D. Cornes, D. Boniface.

v. Colenso High School:

On the 9th of August the school teams travelled to Napier for the annual fixture with our rivals at Colenso for the Lucas Cup.

We lost the toss and had to play against a stiff breeze on a hard ground. Knowles kicked off and not long after Gilbertson ran in from the short side for a very good try. Colenso retaliated with a converted try and then right on half-time they kicked a very good penalty to lead 8—3. With the wind at our backs, points came with a rush. Tries came from Gilbertson, E. Williams, Connell and Cornes. K. Williams kicked a field goal and Skelsey added a conversion and a penalty. The final score was 23—8.

TEAM: Backs—B. Knowles, G. Andrews, M. Gilbertson, E. Williams, K. Williams, M. Takarangi, D. Wilson.

Forwards—A. Lockett, W. Skelsey, E. Noble, J. Hemi, B. Phillips, C. Cornell, D. Cornes, D. Young.

v. Boys' College 2nd XV:

In our annual school fixture we were the guests of Boys' College. The team never settled down into any pattern and after playing into the wind were down at half time by a penalty goal. In the second half things did not go any better and after an even game Boys' College won 3—0.

This was also a championship game and the loss allowed St. Augustine's to be the outright winners in the 4th Grade. We extend our congratulations to them also on being the holders of the Bijou Cup.

TEAM: Backs—B. Knowles, G. Andrews, M. Gilbertson, E. Williams, K. Williams, M. Takarangi, D. Wilson.

Forwards—A. Lockett, W. Skelsey, E. Noble, J. Hemi, B. Phillips, C. Connell, D. Cornes, D. Young.

v. Past Students' XV:

For the second time the first fifteen played an Old Boys' team at the school grounds on the first Saturday of the August holidays. An enjoyable game resulted in which the fitness gained by a hard season by the school team was evident throughout the second spell (in which sixteen players were counted on one side).

Tries were scored for school by K. Williams and D. Ansley. Knowles kicked a conversion, and Skelsey kicked a conversion and two penalties. Score 16—3.

TEAM: Backs—B. Knowles, R. Noble, D. Ansley, M. Gilbertson, K. Williams, M. Takarangi, K. Saunders, D. Wilson.

Forwards—W. Skelsey, A. Lockett, K. Davis, E. Noble, J. Hemi, D. Blyth, C. Connell, D. Young, D. Cornes, D. Boniface.

2nd XV.

This year was the most successful the 2nd XV has had, performing with credit in the A Division W.R.F.U. 5th Grade Competition. In its only inter-school match it defeated Rangitikei College 2nd XV 12—8.

B. Phillips, E. Frederickson, S. Hart, G. Jones all represented Wanganui in the 5th grade representative team, the first two captain and vice-captain respectively.

8th GRADE RUGBY

This year's 8th Grade Rugby team, coached by Mr. Browne, had a very interesting and enjoyable season.

The team was ably led by P. Greenwood aided by the vice-captain C. Adams.

We were grateful for the help of parents in transporting the team to Dannevirke, and although we were beaten by a heavier and more mature team, we enjoyed the trip and the warm hospitality.

The success of the season can be gauged by the following results:

Played against St. Augustine's: Won 9—8, 23—3, 8—3, Lost 3—0.

Played against Boys' College: Won 8—3, 8—0, Lost 5—3.

Played against Collegiate: Won 14—0, 35—3, 10—8, Lost 5—3.

SEVENTH GRADE A

Played and won 13 games. Total points: 380 for, 27 against. A most successful season by a very good team.

The Successful 7th Grade Division A XV.

SEVENTH GRADE B

The side was hastily put together at the beginning of the season, but went from strength to strength, and was undefeated in its last seven official games. The players maintained a fine team spirit throughout, and attended practices in force. Players worthy of special mention were D. Potaka, G. Hunt and B. Newsome.

SOCCKER

1st XI

Regular Teams, 1965: C. Thompson, A. Evans, R. Ewart, P. Richdale, D. McKnight (capt.), P. Wakeling, B. Grinstead, P. Till (V. Capt.), B. Taylor, B. Lowe, G. Hopper, A. Loveday.

Summary of Games, 1965: Played 21, won 12, drew 2, lost 7.

From the games' summary above, it can be seen that the 1st XI has enjoyed a fair share of success, while not achieving the excellent record of its predecessors. At the same time it must be remembered that this year the school played in a combined Wanganui-Palmerston North Western League competition.

The playing season, a very long one, from March 27th to October 2nd, fell into three distinct phases. Non-competitive games occupied the first four playing Saturdays. These encounters served two purposes; they enabled players to attain match fitness and to develop as a combination. The latter proved no easy task with only four of last year's team available.

May 1st saw six teams from Wanganui combining with four from Palmerston North to form the Western League competition. This season was the first time in the history of the school that it has played in a competition of this stature and it acquitted itself well as the final league table below testifies.

	Played	Won	Drew	Lost	Points
Massey University	9	8	1	—	17
Wanganui Boys' College	9	8	1	—	17
St. Andrew's (Palm. Nth.)	9	7	—	2	14
Wanganui High School	9	5	—	4	10
Thistle (Palm. Nth.)	9	4	—	5	8
Western Suburbs (Wanganui)	9	4	—	5	8
Corinthians (Palm. Nth.)	9	3	1	5	7
Athletic (Wanganui)	9	2	—	7	4
Wanganui United	9	2	—	7	4
Wanganui Old Boys	9	—	1	8	1

Interest in this competition was high, the boys were keen and the games hard fought.

After Western League competition, the Wanganui teams reverted to local league (Wanganui) and although, with one exception, the scores were close, the standard of soccer fell far short of the previous competition. This deterioration was most unfortunate because it coincided with a spate of inter-school games and the news that four players — Thompson, Richdale, Lowe and Hopper had been selected to represent the Wanganui Under 16 XI in the North Island Tournament at Napier in the August holidays.

The inter-school games, while providing enjoyable interludes in the second term, were the season's biggest disappointments from a performance point of view. Throughout the season, the main aim has been preparation for the inter school fixtures, and it was thought that the sterner competition against more experienced senior players would stand the team in good stead. But the brief reports below suggest the team did not rise to the occasion or that it was slow in adapting itself to conditions on the day.

1st SOCCER XI

v. Boys' College, Lost 4—1: This game, played as a curtain-raiser to the Wanganui-New Caledonian game was even at half-time but Boys' College asserted themselves in the second half.

v. Rangitikei College, Won 11—0: School took 40 minutes to settle down on a very heavy ground before eventually running out winners.

v. Taita College, Drew 2—2: Conditions were far from ideal for this first game between the schools' 1st XIs. After wasting the first half through persistently using the "short passing game" on a very heavy pitch, school attacked continuously in the second half but the "woodwork", an impressive goal-keeping display and inaccurate shooting deprived High School of victory.

v. Colenso, Lost 3—0: After a goal-less first half during which School played into the wind, Colenso scored mid-way through the second spell. In the last five minutes two further goals were added as a result of defensive errors.

In conclusion here are a few brief impressions of the season:—

Highlight, 1965: The performance against Massey University, a team largely comprised of Afro-Asian players, displaying excellent ball control. School played well above themselves to hold the University side to a 3 goal margin.

Disappointment, 1965: Failure to beat Colenso and return with the Memorial Cup.

Lessons of 1965: Physical fitness must be allied with technical skills — equally proficient with both feet—and, what the N.Z. National coach Mr. Brodic referred to as "brain action". During a game only one person is on the ball, i.e. in possession, at any given time, but the other ten must be "moving off the ball" creating spaces, initiating movements, etc.

Outlook, 1966: The school is losing its captain and vice-captain together with two or three other players and we wish them well. A most encouraging feature of this season has been the improved form of both wing halves who should provide the basis for a successful team provided the glaring weakness at centerforward (not alas obviated by the conversion of the coach into a player-coach on several occasions!) is overcome.

The B and C teams had a full programme of fixtures and an enjoyable season. In spite of the small number of teams taking part in the competition they were, fortunately, evenly matched and most games produced keen football of a high standard. The C team finished the season at the head of the table.

Three junior teams competed in the schoolboys' open grade with more enthusiasm than success. High School Rovers had the distinction of losing every game of the season but played with such keenness and sportsmanship against their more experienced opponents that the prospects for next season are encouraging.

Soccer says goodbye and thank you to Mr. Brewer and Mr. Roberts who are returning to England after giving valuable service to the game for the last three years.

BOYS' 1st HOCKEY XI

Back Row (L. to R.): P. Lawrence, G. Anderson, A. L. McIntyre, M. Stewart, D. Packer, W. Connell.
Front Row: M. Hughes, R. Tullock, R. G. Harman, J. M. O'Donnell, B. Wilson, R. Timpany, Mr. S. M. King.

BOYS' HOCKEY

Again school entered three teams in the local competitions, the 1st XI playing in the Senior Reserve and the others in the Junior Grades.

1st XI: J. M. O'Donnell (Capt.), R. G. Harman, A. L. McIntyre, B. A. Wilson, P. Lawrence, R. J. Timpany, D. J. Packer, R. Tulloch, G. R. Anderson, M. R. Hughes, R. M. Stewart, W. T. Connell

The standard of play was generally good but the team was too dependent on a few players — McIntyre's absence placed a strain on the rest of the team.

For the first time the High School had a New Zealand Representative in McIntyre who toured Australia this winter. Congratulations to McIntyre also, on representing the North Island.

Harman, O'Donnell, Packer, Wilson and Timpany were chosen for the Wanganui Colts' teams during the season. McIntyre and Harman played in the Tournament Representatives against Wanganui.

COMPETITION GAMES

Many close games were played against the Boys' College and the Collegiate School. Most club games were won. School defeated Boys' College in one excellent game.

TOURNAMENTS

Hawera 7-a-side Tournament. School failed to qualify for post section play.

Owing to prior commitments the 1st XI had to withdraw from the Wanganui 5-a-side.

Secondary Schools Tournament for which we were joint hosts: held at Gonville Domain in the first week of the August holidays. School went close to reaching the final but were eliminated by Marlborough College after a rather disappointing week's play by us.

INTER-SCHOOL GAMES

v. Colenso: Played on a damp ground and under the new sticks rule. Lost 1—4.

v. Taita: At home on a wet ground. Lost 2—5.

v. Rangitikei: Again wet conditions. Lost 2—4.

v. Hawera: With a full team again and on a good ground. Won 5—2.

Hockey masters: Mr. S. M. King, 1st XI and 3rd XI; Mr. R. G. Maclean 2nd XI. We thank them for their help.

CROSS COUNTRY

This year the school has done somewhat better than usual but there is still far too big a gap between our best performers and the boys who make up the bulk of the team. In individual performances we had our best year since 1963 when the school gained a 1st and 3rd in the senior individual title. Until the whole school gives its moral support to this sport we cannot expect great improvement.

The School race was held on Tuesday, October 5th from school and included this year the steep seaward face of Victoria Park. Competition was good in each grade.

Senior: 1. D. Cornes (S); 2. M. Gilbertson (V); 3. G. Barr (V); 4. C. Connell (R); 5. B. Phillips (V); 6. A. Loveday (R). Time 22 min 54 secs.

Intermediate: 1. G. Hopper (R); 2. B. Hopper (B); 3. P. Hopper (R); 4. J. Phillips (V); 5. H. Johnston (V); 6. I. Scott (B). Time 23 min. 41 secs.

Junior: 1. C. Adams (B); 2. S. Browne (S); 3. P. Greenwood (S); 4. A. Waites (B); 5. A. Anderson (V); 6. B. Newsome (V). Time 17 min. 45 secs.

BASKETBALL

With over 140 girls playing Saturday basketball, we entered 18 teams in the local competition. Once more a most worthwhile and enjoyable season was had by the loyal and enthusiastic players.

The 'A' team are to be commended on their performance this season. In the local competition they played a total of 17 games losing only four of these. Until the last game, they were 1st equal with Technical Old Girls — losing the final match by a narrow margin to the more experienced players.

Team members were:

Jill Fletcher — Captain: A solid player who worked well on the attack.

Mereana Osborne — Vice-Captain: Maintained an excellent standard throughout the season.

Vivienne Dawson: Proved her worth in all matches. A very good season's basketball Vivienne.

Adrienne McKenzie: Our most junior member. Adapted herself well. Promising future.

Christine Lindergreen: A steady player, who turned in some excellent performances under pressure.

Joanne Ruscoe: Excellent shooting and court work.

Elizabeth Head: Again a most valuable member whose steady play and reliable shooting won many a game.

INTER-SCHOOL GAMES.

Taita College, Monday 26th July

This match was played on school grounds. The game was enjoyable, although too uneven to be exciting. Some scrappy play but the game was generally played in good spirit. Mrs. Skelsey refereed. School won 22—3.

Colenso High School, Monday 9th August

This was played at Colenso in a fairly stiff breeze. It was a very exciting game with plenty of suspense and good play. The final result was a 20—19 win to school after having been behind for part of the way.

Rangitikei College, Tuesday 13th July

Our A and B teams travelled to Marton for this fixture. The games were played in strong wind.

A team — once again this was a fairly one-sided match. School won 31—9.

B team — a closer and more exciting match. B team lost 17—19.

Waverley District High School

Our C and D teams travelled to Waverley to play their A and B teams. Again the games were played in windy conditions which made play very scrappy.

C team drew with Waverley A, 6 all.

D team won against Waverley B, 14—10.

The following girls were selected to represent Wanganui: To them our congratulations.

Senior: Mereana Osborne, Joanne Ruscoe (unavailable).

Senior B: Elizabeth Head, Vivienne Dawson.

Intermediate and Junior: Elaine Haig, Gillian Neilson.

3rd Grade: Janet Bennett, Sylvia Bleakley, Judy Webster, Janet Lindergreen.

4th Grade: Leigh Doyle, Carol Tangaroa, Marjorie Oliver, Raewyn Gordon.

Trophies Won:

C team won the Opening Day Tournament for the Junior Grade.

D team won the Intermediate Grade.

D team also won the Queen's Birthday Tournament. Well done D team.

E team won the Junior Grade.

M team (3rd Form A) won the 4th Grade.

Inter-House Competition

The Inter-House Competition for the Pam Wallace Cup was won by Ballance House for the second year in succession.

Points were: Ballance 1st, 13; Vogel 2nd, 10; Seddon 3rd, 9; Reeves 4th, 4.

Past Students', Saturday, August 21st.

The Past Students' team included Dawn Ruscoe (G.S.), Ann Miller (G.A.), Kay Barnes (W.A.), Suzanne Fletcher (C), Lesley Locket (W.D.), Judy Leach (G.D.) and Arlene Coker (G.K.).

Lynette Almond refereed until Suzanne was unfortunate enough to be injured. Lynette then played centre and Cheryl Crutchly (captain of the school B team) took over the whistle.

This was a most enjoyable game. We feel that school was lucky to win by as much as they did, as there were some outstanding players in the Past Students' team.

The final result was School 18, Past Students' 6.

Our thanks go to the following teachers for their coaching of school teams.

Mrs. Richdale — Senior C, D and Junior A, B.

Miss Bell — Senior D, E, F, G.

Miss Boyd — Senior H, I, J, K.

Miss Greenwood — Senior A, B and Junior C, D, E, F.

To Mrs. Skelsey we extend our sincerest thanks for help and time so freely and frequently given.

GIRLS' HOCKEY

This year five teams were entered in the local Saturday Competition; the A Team entered in the Senior Women's section and the B, C, D, and E teams in the Junior section.

This year's A team was almost completely new as only three of last year's players came back to school. The opening day Tournament was therefore held as trials for selecting the rest of the team, and the rather poor start in the first round of the competition was understandable. The team, coached by Mrs. Maureen Ward, a well known hockey representative, improved immensely in the second round and defeated the strong Saints team and held Collegians to a 4-all draw.

We were successful in winning the Egmont Cup in the Queen's Birthday Tournament held at Hawera. It is the first time that it has been won by Wanganui High School. Another tournament in which we competed was held at Auckland during the August holidays. This was also another first event.

Another big event during the 1965 Hockey season was the game against the New South Wales touring hockey team. Four high school girls were selected for the Under 17's team which played the curtain raiser against Rangitikei. They were:— Vernon Harris, Sally Martin, Rosalie Scott and Merle Cornes (Capt.).

The same four players were chosen for the combined Wanganui Secondary Schools team which played against Taranaki combined secondary schools team. Those selected for the B team were Paddy Stodart, Laurelle Brown and Sue Newton.

This year's E team which was composed of third formers, showed a great deal of ability and enthusiasm, and in coming years will make up a very strong A team for High School. They were coached by Miss Maclean.

The High School A team ended the season well by winning the Hinemoa Challenge Cup in the end of season tournament. This is the first time High School has won the tournament. We won all five games in our section and went on to win the semi-final and the final game, which was against the strong Collegian team, by 3 goals to 2.

The B team ended the season well by receiving the trophy for runners-up in the Junior section.

We would like to thank Mrs. Titter for organising and arranging our trip to the Auckland Tournament, and Miss Duncan for acting as our very capable chaperone during the trip. Thanks also go to Mrs. Ward for coaching the A and B teams.

Special thanks go to Mrs. Titter, who as a new teacher to High School this year was given the added responsibility of Hockey Mistress. She has not only faithfully attended all the Hockey Association meetings on behalf of High School and coached the C and D teams, but has been the person responsible for the general smooth running of the Hockey section. Once again, thanks very much Mrs. Titter.

Members of the A team: Merle Cornes (Capt.), Sally Martin, Paddy Stodart, Linda Miller, Sue Newton, Vernon Harris, Laurelle Brown, Catherine Spencer, Ina Harper, Rosalie Scott, Jenny Dyer; Reserve, Leigh Jolley.

INTER-SCHOOL FIXTURES.

v. Rangitikei College, (Away), 13/7/65: Lost 1—3.

A game played in bad conditions.

v. Taita College, (Home), 26/7/65: Won 8—1.

Was played in constant rain on a very muddy field.

v. Girls' College, (Away), 3/8/65: Lost 1—3.

A disappointing result — High School led 1—0 at half time.

v. Colenso High School, (Away), 9/8/65: Drew 1—1.

Wanganui led for most of the game and it was only in the last 10 minutes that Colenso shot the equaliser.

v. Hawera Technical College, (Away), Third term fixture: Lost 3—4.

A very close game — we could count ourselves rather unfortunate to lose.

UNDER FALSE COLOURS

New Zealand boasts that it has a "harmony of two races", unparalleled by any other country in the world. Indeed it would go so far as to hold this co-existence as an ideal that every other country confronted with the same problem should follow. Yet does New Zealand really stand the test? Two months ago a certain Maori woman was refused lodgings in Wellington because she was a Maori. Is this very different from the action that fellow students took when James Meredith moved into the university dormitory?

In the past the European could admire the traditions and culture of Maoridom from a 'distance'. The majority of the Maori population lived in rural areas. The recent urbanisation of the Maori does show that their acceptability as neighbours, their day to day living, is merely tolerated. As they move to the cities their security as individuals is endangered for their traditional extended family system runs in direct contrast to the individualistic way of life of the contemporary Pakeha New Zealander.

Patterns of segregation may emerge, such as we find at Pukekohe. These patterns may initially be caused by the different social characteristics but not all are based on social differences. Later, however, the segregation could lead to a colour bar unless there is continuous resistance to anything that smacks of social discrimination, for the sad truth is that once a colour bar has a hold on any people, 'logic and truth' go by the board and even quite sensible people begin to act like gangsters.

Many Europeans have not realised that the promulgation of the ideas they have so persistently sought to impose on the Maori people was not possible without recourse to the old time method of discussion on the 'marae' or in the 'runanga'. The hui, tangi and feasts have been deprecated by well meaning friends and advisers of the Maori, who see in them nothing but extravagance, waste of valuable time, danger to health and the perpetuation of undesirable customs.

It was not long ago that the race was threatened with extinction, their numbers sank to a mere forty thousand. There was a universal feeling of futility; an inferiority complex was implanted. The New Zealand Government did nothing to check this drastic decline in population and its associated effects. Under the banner of the Young Maori Party, headed by such men as Sir A. Ngata, Carrol, Buck and Pomare, the plight of the race was halted. The real forces of disease, ignorance and resistance to new ways were combated and eventually subdued. Thus the Maoris themselves were responsible for this resurgence and it is only recently that the Government accepted this fact.

The recent emphasis on the value of Maori culture and the fear that tradition might be lost because of the economic pressure of western life is perhaps a reflection on the old attitude towards the Maori. Some argue that this is a favourable sign; one of a more complete acceptance. But such issues as "No Maoris to South Africa", are so upsetting; they force us to think and examine our consciences. If we go so far as to examine our 'Government's conscience' we find that in the question of 'colour' the New Zealand Government has already made itself a hypocrite. Our immigration policy, however else we may like to believe, is definitely geared to allowing as few 'non Europeans' into the country, as possible. One should not condemn the Government; for in a democracy the Government reflects the majority.

New Zealand has not achieved the "one-ness" it claims; the very terms 'Maori' and 'Pakeha' instead of New Zealander immediately denote the distinction. If however the crisis of Maori urbanisation is solved successfully we will be one step nearer the ideal co-existence.

THE BEST THINGS IN LIFE ARE FREE

Have you ever wondered what the best things in life are? Have you overheard any person say, "If I had a thousand pounds I would buy this and that, or do such and such a thing, and have the time of my life?" Or do they say, "If only I had one of those sewing machines like Mrs. X or a floor polisher like Mrs. so and so —" Well, if you have not heard it, I have. As a matter of fact I have actually said things like that myself, quite often, too. I want some of the "luxuries" of life which sometimes cost a great deal of money.

But when I sit and really think about it, as I hope some other people do too, I realise that many of these things are not essential in life, or at least not in my life. It is true that money can provide many wonderful and beautiful things. But, then, some of the world's richest people are miserable, unhappy and dissatisfied, because they have no true friends. I think that happiness is the best thing in life.

I am one of a large but happy family, and I have the most wonderful friends that a person can have. Together, we have some of the most memorable times in our lives — joking, singing, laughing, and even arguing. But these arguments almost always give us something to laugh about later. I have someone to love, someone who loves me; I have friends to joke, laugh, play, and work with. I have someone to be kind to, a roof over my head, and a bed to sleep in. In short, I am happy.

And how much does all this cost? Not a single penny. I would not trade these friends, these feelings, or my happiness for all the money in the world because I don't think that any amount of money can ever buy them. You see, these are my ideas of the best things in life, and I believe in them. They are free and they are available to anyone who cares to find them, money or no money. Not only are they wonderful because they are free, but also because they can be everlasting and can be destroyed only by oneself.

THE POETS REHASHED

CARS GO

Chariot of Roman times from distant Britain
Coming home from fighting on the border line
    With a cargo of warriors,
    Their shields and weapons
Plundered gold and prisoners and captured kine.

Stately model T Ford rattling up from London.
Clatt'ring down the highway by the great grey walls.
    With a cargo of people,
    And picnic baskets,
Followed by a cursing and angry calls.

Noisy little sports-car with the scarlet mudguards,
Buzzing through the traffic in the Mad Holidays.
    Driven by a mop-top,
    Leather jacket, road hog,
Scattering the traffic in a dozen different ways.

D.C. (4P1).

PARODY ON "CARGOES"

Gallant Model T Ford chugging on a highway,
Taking nervous passengers to busy London Town,
With a cargo of children
And men with mustachios
And a disapproving lady in long stiff gown.

Long sleek Thunderbird on six-lane freeway,
Gliding off to Hollywood at ninety miles per hour.
With a cargo of contracts
And French Cigars and Movie Stars
And a chauffeur-driven millionaire of influence and power.

Big shiny rocketship zooming into emptiness,
Followed by a blazing trail of brightly glowing light,
With a cargo of emigrants
And baggages and businessmen
Keeping their appointments in the deep dark night.

CROSS-COUNTRY, OR

HOW WE RAN THE GOOD RACE FROM GO TO WHOA

I sprang from the starter, and Julie, and she;
I galloped, Anne galloped, we galloped all three,
"Good Speed!" cried the head as the gate-bolts undrew,
"Speed!" echoed Miss Sutherland as we rushed through.
Behind fell the slow ones, the school sank to rest,
And into the morning we galloped abreast.

Not a word to each other; we kept the great pace,
Neck and neck, stride for stride, never changing our place;
Till at last fell poor Julie, her strength had all gone:
I brushed back a tear, but ran steadily on.
I bent down and tightened my shoelace a bit
Nor galloped less steadily for this a whit.

'Twas sunny at starting; but when we drew near Springvale, the rain started and thunder boomed clear;
At the Strawberry Gardens the lightning flashed bright;
Strange to tell, at that moment Anne vanished from sight.
And from Mosstown Church steeple we heard the half-chime,
Annette shouted above the storm, "Yet there is time!"

At Fox Road, out leaped of a sudden the sun
And so startled Annette she could no longer run.
This left me with just one more yet to be passed
And I saw that stout galloper, Deborah, at last,
With resolute shoulders, each butting away
The rain, as some bluff river headland its spray.

So we were left galloping, Deborah and I,
Past house and past tree, now no cloud in the sky;
The gap 'tween us now by a few yards decreased;
She seemed to have slowed since the lightning had ceased.
Now she fell with a whirr and I realised why:
She'd been running on power received from the sky.

And all I remember is, friends flocking round,
As I sat with my head 'twixt my knees on the ground,
And no voice but was praising my wonderful canter,
As they poured down my throat their last measure of Fanta,
Which Miss Sutherland said with a smile on her face.
Was no more than my due who had won the Great Race.

BOYS

(With apologies to W.W.)

My heart leaps up when I behold
A rainbow in the sky.
Contrariwise, my blood runs cold,
When rowdy boys go by.
For horrid, scruffy, clumsy boys
Have manners quite precocious.
They jostle, fight, make too much noise
They really are atrocious.
Untidy dress, unruly hair —
Dirty shoes, but they don't care.
Faces grubby, hands the same,
They seem to think that life's a game.
No matter what their size or shape —
If thin or bearing too much weight,
They're lazy creatures — useless too,
So dim with not a single clue.
But still I find I must confess,
Despite their manners, ways and dress,
Life would be a dreadful bore,
If boys were gone for evermore.

S.H. (4P1).

GEORGEIOUS GIRLS

My heart leaps up when I behold
A rainbow in the sky;
Contrariwise, my blood runs cold
When gorgeous girls go by.
For gorgeous girls I think of as
Contestants for nice boys.
As I'm not cute or pretty
Or sylph-like in my figure,
And neither am I witty,
I'm looked upon with pity
And they all, what is more,
Consider me a bore.

REGRETTABLE NECESSITIES

PARENTS

Parents are a sorry lot. From the time we are born, until the time we marry, and even after, their lives are one long turmoil.

When we are born, our parents spend many sleepless nights walking the floor with us, and father has the added thrill of doing extra chores around the house, such as washing diapers, and has a new experience of trying to change us when conditions demand. One would never think that such a simple thing as a safety pin could cause so much havoc.

From the time when we are a few weeks old, his Sunday afternoons take on a new meaning. Instead of being able to relax after an adequate dinner, put his feet up, and have, in his opinion at least, a well-earned rest, he has the doubtful pleasure of wheeling his young one on long walks, up and down, around and about, along streets that he has never even seen before.

When we reach the stage of mobility, our parents' lives become one big alert, and every few minutes they seek us out to see what sort of mischief we are up to. As a consequence, they begin to long for the time when their "loved one" will enter the big bad world of Primer One.

However, when this glorious event comes about, parents find that all their woes are not yet over, for it is not unusual for parents to find that they are proud owners of a little girl sans pigtails, or conversely, a little boy making a name for himself as an amateur barber. It is also at this time that parents are initiated into a nerve-racking series of ceremonies called parent-teachers' meetings, at which as fast as they can find excuses for their young hopeful's conduct and marks, the teacher rips them to shreds.

Things move along relatively smoothly until the stage of cricket and rugby is reached. It is then that parents realize that the nice old man next door is able to conjure up a remarkable vocabulary when he discovers that his prize begonias, cabbages, and whatnot have been destroyed by a ball. This can be a very trying time for parents both mentally and financially.

It is usually at secondary school that children become the biggest worries. Boys are always wanting advances on their allowance, and the loan of the family car. This can mean one of the most momentous decisions in a father's life, and usually one he regrets. On the other hand, girls are continually pestering to be allowed to wear make-up, wear "smart" clothes, and go out with boys.

Everything goes smoothly as a rule, unless a boy crashes the car and/or himself, or the girl stays out too late, until the girl announces one day that she wants to get married.

Now this is usually a shock to the parents, who wander around in a daze with mother fussing and father frantically trying to work out how many light years it will take to pay off the expenses. As the big day arrives the parents manage somehow to work themselves into a frenzy of excitement and worry even before everyone else is properly awake. When it comes to the ceremony, parents suddenly realize that their "young" one is grown up, and although sad, think joyously of all the extra wardrobe space, low phone bills, and other little extras that will be their lot.

As times go by, however, they realize that they have not lost a daughter, but gained positions as permanent baby sitters, and the cycle is complete.

THE FACE — WHY IS IT IMPORTANT?

Most humans go through life realising only the importance of their own, much adored face. What of those faces around them? They have eyes only for their own. When you realise how faces are placed before us from childhood upwards, this seems hard to believe. What is the first thing a baby sees? Faces — dozens of them peering into his cot. What does a boy hit at in a fight?

You would never guess. Yes, the face. But even for this apparent importance of faces, few people see anything in the faces of those close to them, let alone anyone else's.

Mind you, faces come in many interesting shapes, sizes and colours. If you walked down the main street of Auckland, what a weird and wonderful collection you would see. Ugly, plain, distorted, beautiful, attractive, and handsome faces would loom about you. Long, squat, triangular, oval, square, wide, and even faces with more hair than skin, are among the most popular selection on the market today.

For some people, however, their faces mean money. Boris Karloff has made his money as Frankenstein. Why? Because he has a face resembling a mummified monster. Sean Connery has made money with his appearance. The reason? His face happened to fit the modern conception of a well known secret service agent. What is the first thought that strikes you when you hear Jimmy Durante mentioned? Large noses. Why? Because his nose is nearly as famous as the Statue of Liberty. On the other hand, there are many who have missed out, mainly because of journalism. Journalists draw a picture of a type of person, and any unfortunate who fits that drawing is immediately labelled. Take a criminal. Journalism says a criminal is a hard, scarred-faced individual. What of the poor fellow who has his face bashed around playing rugby? He immediately becomes a criminal, fit only for the gallows.

So, good people, if you have a face that looks like a second punching bag or a delapidated garbage can, try to break into movies or the circus. If you cannot, well, I advise that you undergo plastic surgery. Failure to do so might result in your being picked up for the next murder case.

When you finish reading this, refrain from running to a mirror to admire your own face, but rather look at the faces of those surrounding you. One of those faces may result in fame and fortune, or sorrow for the owner.

GETTING UP ON COLD MORNINGS

I remember reading in last year's Record an inspiring description of how the author rose at six o'clock on a frosty winter's morning and "scrunched" across the hard ground to his home. He considered there was a definite attraction, a certain pleasure, in rising at this hour.

Of course there is a real excuse for us city-dwellers. What attraction is there in rising at six o'clock in the pitch dark and wandering around the back-yard or along the street? We shall not obtain the same companionship that our friend in the country enjoys with his horse. Not only is there no purpose in our rising early, we shall return cold and invigorated — a marked contrast to the rest of the family at the breakfast table — but with no sense of accomplishment. It is an immutable law that if we set out to do nothing, then the product of any effort made will be nothing. This marks a very real difference from the exhilaration of taking a horse over the still paddocks growing pink in the light of a new day. Such romantic delights belong to the country. But even if it were raining heavily, with a southerly making a special trip from the Antarctic, the sense of purpose in rising early to do a job on a farm would drive us from bed. We have no such incentive in the city.

Let us work, then, from another premise: that the mere effort of starting in the cold promotes efficiency. The internal combustion engine may require a richer mixture in cold weather; for ourselves we run very smoothly at low temperatures: scientific research declares our brains work best at 40 degrees Fahrenheit. Ideally, then, students should go to bed early — for in winter evenings the house often becomes as warm as on a summer's day — and spring from their beds no later than four o'clock next morning to discharge their scholastic tasks with supercharged efficiency (No, I should not advocate going outside to work with portable lamp: the ideal temperature is only forty degrees). It is unfortunate that night social life, or evils like television, prevent many of us from savouring the delicious relish of unimpaired efficiency.

But there is another impediment. For one snuggled down in a warm bed, a very strong temptation to remain is difficult to overcome. There is a streak of laziness in the most energetic of us, and it is on an occasion such as this that it becomes apparent. The lure of school-work is rather weak, though its attraction grows with acquaintance, so that we are less keen to finish it than we were reluctant to begin. Possibly, to revert to my former illustration, the grass is greener on the other side . . . but the exhilaration of an early morning ride seems very different from that of serious study. The simplest advice, as usual, is the best. The moment the alarm rings, throw back the bed-clothes and spring forth to face the new day. This might sound drastic, but it is the only way. Half a minute's delay brings reflection on the pressing urgency to rise — "another quarter of an hour won't matter" — and off you drift into vague thoughts, into drowsy, incoherent, idealistic, ridiculous, impossible thoughts — into sleep . . . The next time you gaze into the inscrutable face beside you, the truth is apparent — seven o'clock. And you spring from the bed in fervent haste, irritable and disgruntled. It really would have been better to rise when the alarm first shattered charmed sleep.

Getting up on cold mornings, even if it is not dark, tests the old "early" maxim. It gives an unmistakable impulse to the work of the day. And like any habit, once contracted it will be hard to break. I wonder why alarm-clock manufacturers do not use a slogan like:

"Let Westlocks give you a real start in the day."
It is the best tonic we can have.

RUGBY SHOULD BE MADE ILLEGAL

Whenever I see a rugby game I muse upon a statement an English friend of mine once made: "rugby should be made illegal."

He was a Cockney, fresh out from England, and had had little experience of a rugby match. The day we went, the ground squelched at each movement we made. The two teams in their neatly-pressed white and blue uniforms thudded onto the field with hopeful expressions.

The game was under way. One snatched up the ball and ran like the hounds towards the goal. But he was intercepted by the opposition and as my friend put it "'E's come a cropper!" Removing himself from the mud we could see him muttering something as he rubbed his hands together. They, his face, his legs and his white suit, were now a delicate shade of earth brown.

Harlequin set off after the ball once more, full of purpose, only to get tackled again as soon as he reached for the ball. As he and his tackler went down, so a few others joined in the game, pushing his face once more into the mud. The crowd was shouting, so my energetic friend jumped up and down, crying out, "Go on, jump on 'im! Push 'is face in the mud. Go on! He loves it — that's why 'es lying there. Just a little longer now, it won't do 'im any harm". Then aside to me he added "It will probably make an improvement anyway."

So the game continued. By now everyone on the field looked the same, so we could no longer watch the fate of our unfortunate hero. A line out took place. Everybody lined up, puffing and looking grimed by toil, and jumped for the ball. Off down the field it went with everyone after it. On the way many lost their footing in the mud to my friend's delight — he was used to 'a sensible game of soccer.'

Then came the scrum. Those bent double around the scrum were pounding their feet in the mud, while we could see some hands also on the ground. The ball was thrown in, and as he predicted a large foot was placed on some poor fool's hand. "Stamp on it! Go on! He collects stamps, the idiot!"

My friend's comments were not received kindly, so we left what he called "the illegal game whose main rule is 'there can be fair cheating' ", to watch the soccer match.

HENRY THE SCROUNGER

Rough and cunning,
Not kind at heart.
He makes you laugh,
Right from the start.
His name is Henry,
The scrounger, and,
He'll take your goods,
Right from your hand.

If you are sitting,
Upon a stool,
In a hotel,
Nice and cool,
Beware of a Swagman,
Who says at the bar.
"Is there a room?
For I've travelled far."

You'll think that he,
Is a millionaire.
Come from the town,
To seek peace and rest.
He'll get the best,
Of service and care,
And when he's quenched,
He'll retire to bed.

In the morning,
When he's about to leave.
The barman will ask
When he reaches the door,
Where's your cheque,
For you haven't paid
The bill you owe,
For your meals and bed.

Henry then rummages,
In his bag.
And rips a check patch,
From an old pair of pants.
This he will give,
To the barman and then,
He'll leave with a grin
Upon his face.

TEENAGERS

They arrive in wagons,
With dozens of flagons,
Bleached hair, and waxed boards.
They come in their hordes,
Do the surfies.

The Mods on their scooters,
All sounding their hooters,
In clothes that have style,
They linger awhile,
Yes do these Mods.

They wear jackets of leather,
In all kinds of weather,
They ride noisy bikes.
The Mods they dislike,
It's the Rockers.

There are in-betweens too,
Like me and you,
Who stay home and swot,
You do? Then you're pots.
Lets be SMOCKERS!

Jill G. (4P1)

T.V. FRIENDS

Knock! knock! knock! — who can that be?
Take one look and you shall see,
It's Mrs. Brown, and Flo, and Trix.
And others making over six.

“Oh Hello Dear, we thought we'd come.
Around tonight and have some fun.
It's ages since we had a chat,
And I'd love to show you my new hat.”

“And while we're here I thought we'd see.
A little bit of your T.V.,
There's a very good programme on.”
And then — into the lounge they're gone.

You get up, and Mrs. Brown,
Takes your seat and sits right down,
And then through the door comes Mum;
This begins the rowdy fun.

A hat parade it seems has started,
Ev'ryone else has since departed,
You've got no choice but to admire the hat,
'Though you've never seen one quite like that.

And then their stomachs seem to say,
Supper time's here for today,
Their appetites give you a pain,
They seem to think food falls like rain.

Seven fuller stomachs later,
For which your tins have had to cater,
You say good-bye, and force a smile,
And hope they'll stay away a while.

A FISHY STORY

Most people think my Uncle Benjamin is slightly crazy. I myself agree whole-heartedly. He has done quite a few strange things that give good basis for this supposition, but nothing, I think, matches his crazy conviction that fish would become the international currency in a few years.

He had been reading a book that described how very few of the huge submarine continents had been explored. The book also told how the fish population had been increasing. Uncle Benjamin became certain that the future of all mankind lay in the ocean. For him it was only few simple steps from this to get the idea about fish and money.

I woke up one morning at about 4.30, and was horrified to hear a voice calling my name. I opened the window and poked my head out. "Come out! Come and enjoy the fresh air of the early morning!" cried a shrill, shaky voice.

I shuddered, and blearily opened one eye. To my dismay there stood Uncle Benjamin, with a gleam in his eye that I knew only too well. "What's the matter this time?" I asked.

"What d'you mean: 'this time'? Anyone'd think I came across these great discoveries all the time!"

I did not answer.

"Hurry up! get dressed!"

"Dressed?"

"That's right, you're coming with me to the wharf."

"The wharf?"

"Yes, we're going to negotiate a few deals with the fishermen."

"The fishermen! What on earth have you got to do with fishing?"

Then he unfolded the story. To say that I was thunder-struck would be a gross understatement. Unfortunately, I had to accompany him. Last time he went off on a similar venture, we had to find twenty pounds to pay his fines.

We reached the wharf as the boats were preparing to set out. I stood as inconspicuously as possible in the background as I watched Uncle Benjamin trying to persuade the skippers of the boats to sign over their whole catch to him. I also watched as they summoned a policeman. Uncle Benjamin protested loudly and angrily as he was hauled off. I followed at a discreet distance, and picked up snatches of monologue: ". . . law suit . . . false arrest . . . merely a business deal . . . young whippersnapper . . ."

The next day ten pounds changed hands at the Police Court for charges ranging from disturbing the peace to resisting arrest. Uncle Benjamin was a free man once more, fortunately or unfortunately, depending on how well you knew him. Since that day, Uncle Benjamin has been kept under close surveillance.

A BLIND UNDERSTANDING

Fate has etched her markings
Well into his face and deeper still his soul,
Rough lines betray the bitterness,
Which lies within that barricaded heart.
His eyes appeal and his tongue repels,
His is a sordid, twisted, world he cannot leave
For fate has lifted him above
Men but pushed him too
Low for dreams to find him.
Now he waits and drifts with
Time, but he is not alone,
For I am there to comfort him.
In our wanderings, on me he leans,
He will strengthen me that I might live again,
I will weaken him so that he might dream,
I will be his friend from this day on,
I, the lamp will guide him.

SIXTYFIVE

Ha!
says the telegraph pole.
It has seen them
in the darkness — flashing.
It has heard the screaming rubber;
Smelt it burning.
Ha! (Cynically).
How can it tell?
It has seen them flashing ---
Heard them come — to violent ends.

GOING PLACES

“WHY?”

How very nice the Editor,
Has saved a little corner for
My words of sound sagacity.
Of certain perspicacity
It shows,
He knows.
You've often wondered why they go
Deer-stalkers, and the men we know,
Who stand for sodden hours in streams,
Dreaming the while their fishy dreams?
Some say they go in search of beauty.
And some, "It is a sense of duty."
But I will tell you, for I know
The very reasons why they go.
To hang wet clothes upon the door,
And knock their pipes out on the floor;
To go to bed in all their clothes
And sleep with stag-hounds, ear to nose,
To drink black brews of billy tea
And get away from you and me.

I.A.M.M. (U6).

FINDING A SITE

The heavy continuous drizzle ruffled the river like sandpaper, right up to where it disappeared round the next bend. Other than the noise of the rain on the river, the only sound was that of the dozen paddles splashing the water, without rhythm. Though we all had our parkas on with the hoods up and our splash covers over the cockpits of our kayaks, we were all sopping wet and in low spirits.

We were a party of twelve canoeists, paddling from Taumarunui down the river to Wanganui, a distance of 144 miles, which is quite a way when you have to paddle it all. We were on our third day's journey, our second day in the river gorge, and we were in sight of our last big rapid before we reached our camping site for the night. This rapid was just a series of two or three-foot waves because it had been submerged by the steadily rising river; other rapids were marked on the map, but these were completely submerged and unnoticeable. The river was up about five or six feet, and for those who had been on the trip last year, things and places which they thought they would recognise, seemed distorted and very hard to find. Whole islands in the very centre of the river, which are sometimes a hundred yards long and perhaps thirty yards wide, were now usually completely submerged, with the occasional small willow still sticking out. One river, the Ohura, which had been a few yards wide was now about fifty and ran swiftly over a small waterfall into the much larger Wanganui. There were many small waterfalls, which had never been there before, now gushing over grey papa cliff faces on either side of us out of bigger, bush-filled gullies.

We shot the last rapid without event and rounded the last corner to where we were to beach our kayaks on the large shingle bank. This was about two hundred yards from the four berth hut in which we planned to spend the night. But where was the shingle bank? There were about two hundred square yards of it last time, and they had pitched their tents on it. But now? Now, nearly the whole thing had disappeared.

We beached our kayaks on what was left of the bank. Now to get to the hut. Before, all you had to do was to walk round the water's edge for about a couple of hundred yards and then up to it. But now, since the river had risen, this route was impossible.

There were two alternative routes.

The first was to paddle our kayaks round to a tiny inlet just below the hut and to beach them there. But this was too dangerous because if you missed the inlet (and this would be an easy thing to do because even just to pull into the reasonably wide top of the shingle bank had been tough work), you would be swept on through the gorge. Once you went past there it might be a couple of hours or more before you could beach your kayak, and by then it would be dark. The other, and not quite so dangerous, plan was to hack a track through the thick brambles across to the hut. We decided on this route. In the meantime, however, one of the party who was an extremely good canoeist and who had the best kayak in the party, had managed to get round to the inlet and beach his kayak. Although we could not see either him or the hut, we were able to yell directions to him to start making the track towards us.

Hacking a track through thick brambles, in drizzling rain, with just sticks and in jandals or sand shoes and shorts, is not my idea of a picnic. But to get to the hut we had to do it; so we did it. Meanwhile as the river was still rising at about two feet an hour, so the kayaks all had to be dragged up as high as they could and secured to branches of trees.

After about an hour of hacking, smashing and hitting back the undergrowth and brambles we joined up with the other fellow. He had done just as much track as we had, as the last twenty or thirty yards up to the hut were just in thick native bush, and not in brambles.

But this was not a time for rest. We now had to make at least two trips each along the track and back to get our sleeping bags, dry clothes, food and torches and other equipment. This bit was made extra hard for me by the fact that the mud on the track leading through the native bush tended to make my feet slip off my jandals and onto the prickles in the prickly part of the track. Finally, however, when we had carried all our things to the hut, we prepared a hot meal and sat down to eat it. We were all very tired and most of us, like me, very sore.

“SHELTER”

Our hut is small but loved by all,
On Ruapehu's snowy peak,
Near bush-clad hills both great and small,
Beside a clear and crystal creek.

We go for trips at weekends when
The truck is hired by staff,
The view is “neat” and now and then
The “trampers” start to laugh.

The Ohakune Mountain Road is very seldom clear,
And even though we want to rush,
The usual cry is “get out and push!”
When the car's been left in reverse gear!

Streams are crossed, provisions dropped,
But, never mind, as long as we find
That precious “grub” like bread and savs,
To fill the gap so we don't starve.

The trip is over, back to school,
Write up the log-book, return to rules.
Trace lost property then display
The slides we took on that glorious day.

J.W. (3P1).

THERE IS ALWAYS A FIRST TIME

It's like an army barracks when you first go there.
The rooms are positioned far and near,
You may ask your cobbler which way to go,
He will just say "Well, don't ask me, I don't know,"
The best thing to do is to follow the crowd.
Don't ask questions, don't shout aloud,
And you will get there without a doubt.
And later in the day, find your way about.

I.O. (3P2).

COFFEE BAR — 11 P.M.

The Neon sign reads "The Loft", in moody blue and purple lights. It is in a narrow back alley, dark and damp. The sounds of main-street traffic mingle with those of trumpet and saxophone, drifting down the staircase. We will go in.

Through the narrow doorway we pass, and up the narrow, wooden stairs. There is a door at the top. We will go in.

The room is dim and smoky, lit only by small, blue lights above the tables. Heads turn in our direction as we make our way towards a corner table. We have ventured, perhaps by mistake, into another world. A waitress, short and plump, in a tight black dress, takes our orders and departs, leaving behind her the strange, mixed scent of hair lacquer and face powder. She soon returns with coffee and fruit juice, and the strange scent grows stronger as she places them on the table. The clink of coins is heard and she is gone.

People — in the opposite corner are two girls; heavily made up, whose summer frocks are visible beneath old winter coats. Each time the door opens they look up sharply, to see if any likely-looking boy has come in. Their cups of coffee must be cold by now — they are untouched.

At the next table, by the wall, a young couple gaze intently at one another, oblivious of all else. The boy looks very young — tall and lean and sallow-faced — while the girl is older, more sophisticated. Next to them is a small group of young men — University students, probably, with beards, long hair, corduroy trousers and duffle coats. They laugh and talk quietly among themselves, and then compare notes drawn from large folios — obviously students.

The solitary figure of a young man is seen in another darkened corner.

The door opens, and the two girls' eyes light up. Three boys enter, swaying slightly — probably as a result of the party they have come from. We know of these boys. One is known to smoke opium, but he tells no-one where he gets it from. They stand at the bottom of the entrance steps, surveying the small gathering. They see the girls in the corner, who giggle and lower their eyes. They begin to drink their coffee unconcernedly, knowing what will happen. The boys walk unsteadily over to them. The opium-smoker tilts one of the girls' chins, and asks her name. She is silent. He puts his arm about her shoulders. She nods to her companion. They finish their coffee, then all five get up and leave.

It is time for us to go. The Loft will remain dim, and smoky, and haunted by strains of jazz from the record-player, until early in the morning. Then it will be silent.

PRESUMPTIONS

Presumed, — to take for granted,
Is an unpresumptive word.
Presumably for instance,
Is presumably when heard.
Presume you are presumptious —
Presumably that is,
But maybe your presumptions —
Are unpresumptive.
Let's presume that this makes sense,
And add a little more.
And with presumptive words alike —
We presume that presumably.
Your presumptions — unpresumptively you'll implore.

THE PROBLEMS OF AN AMATEUR INVENTOR

When one is in a creative mood there are many things to do. But they have been done before; sewing, cooking, going out somewhere — none of these are very exciting.

The mind turns to the idea of doing something new, original — inventing something! Something that no-one has ever done before.

Full of enthusiasm though one may be, there are problems ahead. The first and most insurmountable is simply: what? Modern science has progressed so far beyond the comprehension of the ordinary man that machines have been invented, and are in use, the working of which we could not begin to understand. We shall ignore the field of technical advancement, then, and concentrate on inventing a gadget to do something really useful. Can you think of one, practical and workable, that is not already in existence?

The second problem facing the would-be inventor is that of materials and, indirectly, of money. Since things like expensive electric motors, larger types of batteries, electric drills, and other technical equipment are not usually available to the ordinary person, one would seem to be limited to the simpler inventions. Even here, there are difficulties. Simple materials, wood, nails, and others, limit the inventor to unspetacular, uninteresting creations.

There seems to be no way of solving these problems, but there are more to come. How can one pour one's soul into an invention of amazing ingenuity when one's mother continually harangues one about tidying up rooms, washing dishes, making beds and other regrettable but necessary household duties? And how can one spread out and create to one's heart's content in a small modern bedroom, with strictly functional furniture all crowded around, and a piece of space in the middle just large enough to turn around in? And it's raining outside.

The last brick wall that the amateur inventor will come up against is that measured by the clock. With hours of homework to do, the aforementioned household chores, and long exhausting school hours to tire one out, there is not much time left over — so little in fact that one is tempted to curl up and do nothing till the next time-demanding assignment looms on the horizon.

So to all amateur inventors my advice is — give up. There are always other people who can do it much better, and there is no satisfaction in doing what is useless to everyone, yourself included. Take advantage of the brilliant inventions of others: television, radio, and such, to enjoy yourself.

ANNUAL REPORT OF THE WANGANUI HIGH SCHOOL HOME AND SCHOOL ASSOCIATION

EXECUTIVE 1964-1965.

President: Mr. A. J. W. Hodder.

Vice-President: Mr. L. R. Syme.

Secretary-Treasurer: Mr. J. N. Caradus.

Executive Members: Mrs. L. S. Clark, Mrs. R. C. Davies, Mrs. R. E. Dawson, Mrs. G. B. Lockett, Mrs. M. H. Smiley, Mrs. A. R. Till, Mr. H. D. Bennett, Mr. W. K. Burt, Mr. A. D. Canning, Mr. C. E. Cornes, Mr. V. C. Dillon, Mr. J. Foster, Mr. A. T. Gibson, Mr. C. E. Goldstone, Mr. P. Holford, Mr. T. C. Norris, Mr. W. R. Scott, Mr. H. Tempero, Mr. A. S. Wenmoth.

During the year under review, five general meetings of the Association were held, the average attendance being 140.

At these meetings, after the usual business was transacted, addresses were given as follows:

On 22nd April, 1964, which was the Annual General Meeting, Mr. Smellie spoke on the "Duke of Edinburgh Scheme" and Mr. Lupton gave an interesting account of "Recent Activities of the Tramping Club" which was well illustrated by a movie film and slides.

On 2nd July, Mr. Waitai spoke on "Remedial Reading" and Mr. Stevenson on P.S.S.C. Physics.

July 22nd was the "Report Meeting". This, as usual, was the best attended meeting of the year. Mr. Ingham explained to parents the workings of the "Fifth Form Report Scheme".

On 29th September, we participated in a most interesting and instructive Panel Discussion on questions submitted by the Executive of the Association. The panel consisted of five post-primary Inspectors, viz. Miss Mulvihill and Messrs. Mills, Middleweek, Cagney and Culliford.

On the 24th March of this year, we listened avidly to David Young and Roy Foley when they gave an account of their experiences at the Outward Bound School at Anakiwa. Mr. Bowden supplemented these talks by showing us coloured slides.

Sincere thanks are expressed to all those who addressed these meetings, to the ladies who assisted with supper and to those gentlemen who expressed your thanks and appreciation to the various speakers.

During the year, the executive met as required. The principal business was to arrange programmes for the general meetings, to organise the 1965 Gala Day, to provide supper for the Cast after the performance of "Princess Ida", to organise a stall at the J.C. Market Day and to implement a decision to circularise parents seeking donations to the Gymnasium Fund.

A commendable profit of about £550 was made on Gala Day. This year we did not extend our activities into the evening.

The profit from our stall on J.C. Market Day was approximately £95 and from the Bring and Buy Stall held here on Report Evening, we gained about £16.

The Gymnasium Fund now stands at over £4200. You will hear more about this project later in the evening.

In conclusion, I should like to express my personal thanks to the Members of the Executive and of the Staff, particularly the Principal, Mr. Gibson, for the help and support given to me so willingly during the year. It has been a pleasure and a privilege to work with them all.

I must thank, also, the parents for their loyalty and flattering support when electing me to the Board of Governors of this School.

Finally, I thank you again for giving me the privilege of being President of this Association. It is an honour I fully appreciate and an experience I have greatly enjoyed.

A. J. W. HODDER, President.
