ENJOY GROHE PARKFIELD™

With its sweeping lines and smooth curves the new Parkfield™ flows effortlessly like water itself and, like the arching curve of a water fountain the spout guides water to the perfect position for function and comfort.

Inspired by nature, the lever has a fluid form that is reminiscent of a leaf, while the protruding underside resembles the shape of water held below a leaf by tension until it finally drops to the ground. The increased organic volume of the lever gives the faucet a more tactile feel that improves usability and set to precisely 7 degrees, it invites interaction while boldly communicating the GROHE brand DNA.

The use of repetitive concentric rings acts as a transition detail that creates a nostalgic semantic that resonates with precision, performance and superior craftsmanship. This simple yet elegant detail binds the collection across all points, creating a balance throughout the bathroom.
