INDUSTRIAL PIPING SYSTEMS

IPEX is pleased to announce the update of several Enfield™ Electrofusion Acid Waste fittings. The updated fittings will feature deeper sockets as well as clamp positioning guides to assist in ease of installation.

In the process of updating the molds, the dimensions of these fittings have changed and are outlined in the chart below. If you require updated CAD drawings for these Enfield fittings, please contact your regional Applications Engineer. The dimension in our Volume III: Acid Waste Piping Systems Technical Manual have been updated to reflect these changes.
