Winspear Centre

WINSPEAR CENTRE

Edmonton's World Class Concert Hall

History of the Winspear Centre

The Francis Winspear Centre for Music was built for the performance and appreciation of all types of music including symphonic, country, folk and jazz. The Centre stands as a lasting legacy to the life and work of one of Alberta's finest citizens, Dr. Francis G. Winspear, a highly distinguished business leader and philanthropist. Dr. Winspear donated $6 million to the project in 1988 – the largest single private donation ever made to a performing arts facility in Canada.

The Winspear Centre was constructed on the former site of Edmonton's Police Station and officially opened its doors on September 13, 1997. By March 1999, word spread as to the excellence of the acoustics and the facility and the Winspear was named the Performing Arts Centre of the World by the Canadian Session and Touring Industry.

On September 14, 2002 the Davis Pipe Organ was introduced as the newest addition to the Francis Winspear Centre's chamber. This organ is one of the largest concert hall pipes in Canada with 96 stops, 122 ranks and 6,551 pipes – a stunning aural as well as visual delight. The Davis Pipe Organ was named to acknowledge the generous $2 million donation from Dr. Stuart Davis and for him to honour the memory of his late wife.

Today, the Centre continues to be world renown and Edmonton's world class concert hall.
