

Edmonton Symphony Orchestra Celebrates Family Day long weekend with Symphony of Magic

For immediate release

Edmonton, AB (February 10, 2020) Prepare to be amazed as master illusionist Michael Grandinetti, conductor Cosette Justo Valdés, and your Edmonton Symphony Orchestra (ESO) perform Symphony of Magic during the Family Day long weekend. Due to high demand, a fourth concert has been added to the line-up and will take over the Winspear stage on February 14, 15, and 16.

Named by the LA Times as one of “the most accomplished acts in the world of magic”, Michael Grandinetti is the star of the hit TV series Masters of Illusion, and has dazzled audiences in NFL halftime shows, at the White House, and with symphony orchestras across North America. See his daring, jaw-dropping show with the ESO as his illusions synchronize seamlessly to symphonic selections from Harry Potter, Beauty and the Beast, Aladdin, E.T. and much more.

“This fun for the whole family show is a perfect way to celebrate the Family Day long weekend. I am so excited to conduct the ESO while illusions will be taking place around us,” said Justo Valdés. This unique array of sights and sounds is sure to capture the imagination,” she added.

Tickets are available by calling the Winspear Box Office at 780-428-1414 or visiting our website: winspearcentre.com. Adult tickets start at $25 plus fees.
