YIT Plus service channel

Helping you with planning and living in your home

YIT Plus is your home's knowledge database and communication channel

As a resident of a YIT Home, you have access to the YIT Plus service channel, where you can take care of matters relating to your home wherever and whenever it suits you best. YIT Plus is there to help you during construction and living in your home. You can, for example:

- › monitor the construction of your home
- › see important dates of construction
- › choose the materials for your home
- › keep important documents concerning your home
- › read the housing company's bulletins
- › send a message to the maintenance company and follow up on your case
- › talk to neighbours
- › monitor your water consumption (in some housing companies)
- › book common spaces (in some housing companies)

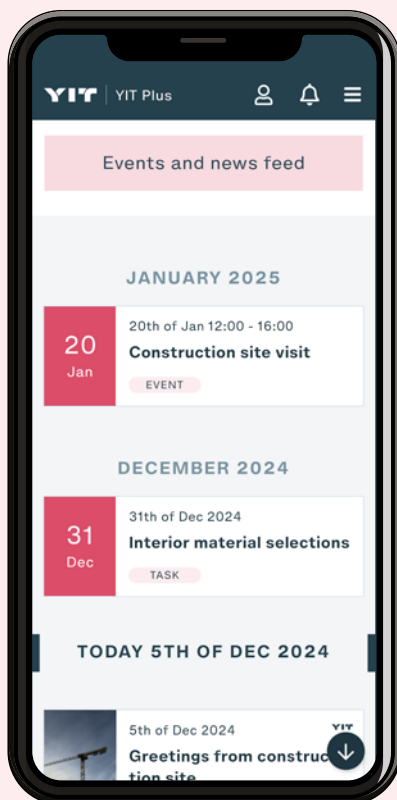

Best of all – Plus is easy to use!

The side menu can be found here

Events and news feed

In addition to greetings from the construction site, here you can see important information and event invitations, e.g.
for a site visit.

Reminders

You can find all of the important dates in chronological order
under "Reminders" on the home page.

Discussion forum

A modern neighbourhood forum where you can get to know your neighbours before you move in. Private messaging is also possible.

YIT Plus side menu

The side menu varies depending on the degree of completion of your building and the services offered by the housing company.

My apartment and building

Here you can find important documents concerning the housing company and your home, the floor plan of your apartment and the user instructions for your appliances.

Material selection

This page can be found in the side menu at the early phases of construction, when you can choose materials. You can see the selection schedules, instructions on how to choose materials and appliances and a link to YIT Plus Studio.
