Re: Endorsement for Adventist Young Professionals

To Whom It May Concern,

Upon the receipt of the commendation and affirmation that was rendered through the Arlington Seventh-day Adventist Church leadership and series of multiple conversations and careful examination for the ministry of AYP (Adventist Young Professionals), we are delighted to extend our endorsement for this much needed ministry for the young adults in the Seventh-day Adventist Church.

AYP provides an essential network and spiritual community for young adults and young professionals that have launched their careers and are currently active in the marketplace. And they proceed to consistently supply ample resources, gatherings and events that support the spiritual journey of our young professionals.

So, it is with much appreciation for the grass-root efforts to Tim Kosaka (the founder) and the leadership team at AYP, that we offer our affirmation and endorsement for their ministry.

If you have any further questions, please do not hesitate to reach out.
